

MADRIZ SUGGESTS PLANS FOR PEACE

ESTRADA, HOWEVER, REFUSES TO RECOGNIZE NEW PRESIDENT.

WILL NOT GIVE UP ARMS

Commissioners May Meet With Insurgent Forces to Discuss Peace
Plans.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, D. C., Dec. 28.—General Estrada, according to a report from Mexico City, will not accept Madriz's terms as a basis for peace. Madriz has asked Estrada to suspend hostilities pending the arrival of his peace commissioners.

General Estrada expressed his willingness to meet the peace commissioners but denied the right of congress to elect Madriz president, claiming the latter a usurper of the people's rights. Madriz asks the revolutionists to recognize his government and that all arms and ammunition be turned over to him. In six months he agrees to arrange for an election of a president by the people.

Travels in State.
Santa Lucrécia, Mex., Dec. 28.—The private car on which President Zelaya and his party are proceeding to Mexico City, passed through here today. The party is due at Mexico City tomorrow morning.

Refuses to Resign.
New York, Dec. 28.—Ugo Bolanos, the Nicaraguan consul in New York City, has received his dismissal by cable from President Madriz. He declines, however, to recognize the authority of Madriz and announces he will not give up his office until the state department at Washington sends him a note to resign his post. He favors Estrada for president.

WALTER HONEYSETT MARRIED SATURDAY

Wealthy Retired Farmer of Town of Footville Marries Mrs. Ella M.
Hastings of Beloit.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Footville, Wis., Dec. 28.—Friends and neighbors of Walter Honeysett, a retired farmer of the town of Footville were greatly surprised this morning when they learned of his marriage to Mrs. Ella M. Hastings, Dec. 25 at the home of the bride, 820 Ninth st. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Olaf of Footville in the presence of only the immediate families of the contracting parties. Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Honeysett left for Madison on a wedding trip and will be at home to their friends in Footville after Jan. 1.

TWO IMPRISONED ON CHARGES OF MURDER

Arrests Have Been Made in States
Of South Dakota and Nebraska
Per Two Slayings.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Aberdeen, S. D., Dec. 28.—B. F. Stevens today was held for trial for the murder of David G. Mackenzie at Logan, South Dakota, two weeks ago.

Another Murder.
Aberdeen, Neb., Dec. 28.—Jacob Davis was today held for trial for the murder of William A. Wilson, a stranger, who was arrested, charged with the crime.

POSTAL RECEIPTS WERE VERY HEAVY

Amount of Mail Handled Here During Holidays Sets Record For Janesville Postoffice.

According to Postmaster Charles L. Valentine, the Christmas mail handled in the Janesville office this year is much greater than last year and probably exceeds in amount the holiday mail ever handled here in any previous year. Although no figures are kept in regard to the number of packages and letters handled, it is the impression of both the postmaster and the clerks that the 1900 holiday mail has set a record.

What has been said of the amount of mail can also be said of the record made by those who have taken care of it. Although heavy snow has greatly hampered the carriers on their rounds and also delayed the clerks by holding up the mail trains, there has been little or no delay in taking care of both the incoming and outgoing mail. Christmas night found everything in the way of Christmas packages and mail either delivered or forwarded. The clerks for Monday were so busy that they were unable to sort out the mail for Monday night as well as that which came in on Monday. Today however, after the annual rush on the wave but it will be several days before normal conditions will be reached.

LEFT LEGACY UPON DEATH OF RELATIVES

William Fetter Inherits Five Thousand Dollars From Foreign Relatives.

William Fetter, who is a well known barber in this city and who is spending the holidays with his mother at Ft. Wayne, Indiana, has received word that he has fallen heir to five thousand dollars left by the will of a relative of his mother who died recently in Germany. Mr. Fetter has not yet returned to Janesville and it is anticipated in a telegram from La Porte, Indiana that he will go to Germany to claim the estate.

HEDGER WITNESS SENT TO WAUPUN; WELL KNOWN HERE

William A. Schacht, Convicted of Perjury in Murder Trial, Gets Three Years in Prison.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Milwaukee, Dec. 28.—William A. Schacht, a juror in the first trial of Ward E. Hedger, alleged uxoriicide, who brought the trial to a sensational climax when he was arrested on a charge of having committed perjury when a witness for the prosecution, entered a plea of guilty before Judge A. C. Brazee in the municipal court today. Judge Brazee sentenced Schacht to three years, the minimum.

TWO SUICIDES IN DIFFERENT CITIES

Men End Their Lives to the Surprise of Their Friends.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Green Bay, Dec. 28.—Frank Lamberton, employed by the Cargill Coal company, committed suicide last night by taking nearly an ounce of strychnine at a residence on the south side. The police say the man was dependent over a love affair. He was forty years old.

Another Suicide.
Sheboygan, Dec. 28.—Vin. Thelke, son of Vin. Thelke, Sr., aged twenty years, committed suicide last night, drinking almost a half pint of carbolic acid. His father found him unconscious. A physician was called but the lad had died. No cause is known for the act.

TODAY'S CHICAGO MARKETS.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Chicago, Ill., Dec. 28.

Cattle receipts, 7,000.
Market, weak.
Butter, 4.20@4.30.
Eggs, 1.40@1.50.
Hog receipts, 12,000.
Market, 5c higher.
Light, 8.00@8.25.
Mixed, 8.25@8.50.
Heavy, 8.50@8.75.
Good to choice heavy, 8.50@8.75.
Pigs, 7.15@7.35.
Bulk of sales, 8.00@8.50.
Sheep receipts, 15,000.
Market, weak.
Native, 3.00@3.25.
Wool, 3.00@3.25.
Yearling, 4.00@4.25.
Lamb, 5.75@6.00.
Western lamb, 5.75@6.00.
Wheat.
Dec.—Opening, 1.10; high, 1.10 1/2; low, 1.10; closing, 1.10.
May.—Opening, 1.10 1/2; high, 1.12; low, 1.10; closing, 1.10 1/2.
Rye.
Closing—79 1/2.
May—80 1/2.
Clover—53 1/2.
Corn.
May—65 1/2.
July—64 1/2.
Sept.—63 1/2.
Dec.—62 1/2.
Oats.
May—45 1/2.
July—44 1/2.
Sept.—43 1/2.
Dec.—42 1/2.
Poultry.
Turkeys—17.
Springers—11.
Chickens—12 1/2.
Creamery—27 1/2.
Dairy—25 1/2.
Eggs—21 1/2@25 1/2.
Live Stock.
Omaha, Neb., Dec. 27.
CATTLE—Market slow to stronger. Native steers, 11.00@11.50; cows and heifers, 10.00@10.50; Texas steers, 10.00@10.50; cows and heifers, 9.00@9.50; calves, 10.00@10.50; bulls, 8.00@8.50; pigs, 7.00@7.50.
HOGS—Market 10 to 20 cents higher. Heavy, 12.00@12.50; mixed, 11.50@12.00; light, 11.00@11.50; pigs, 10.00@10.50.
SHEEP—Market 10 to 20 cents higher. Heavy, 12.00@12.50; mixed, 11.50@12.00; light, 11.00@11.50; lambs, 12.00@12.50.

THE JANESVILLE MARKETS.

Janesville, Dec. 28, 1900.
Bar corn—$1.25@1.30.
Feed corn and oats—$2.00@2.25.
Standard middlings—$2.00@2.25.
Oil meal—$1.50 per 100 lbs.
Oats, Hay, Straw.
Oats—$1.25@1.30.
Hay—$13 a ton.
Straw—$8 a ton.
Rye and Barley.
Rye—75c for 60 lbs.
Barley—55c@60c bu.
Eggs, Ill., Dec. 21.—Butter, 30c; sales for week, 580,000 lbs.
Butter and Eggs.
Creamery butter—38 1/2c.
Fresh butter—34 1/2c.
Eggs, fresh—28c.
Vegetables.
Potatoes—25 1/2c@30c.
Cabbages—30c@40c doz.
Apples—$4.00@7.00 per 100 lbs.
Poultry Market.
Live fowls are quoted at the local market as follows:
Old chickens—80c.
Springers—10c.
Turkeys—17c a lb.
Hogs.
Steers and Cows.
Hogs—Different grades, $6.50@7.50.
Steers and cows—$3.50@4.50@5.00.

THE NATIONAL HOSPITAL.

ALLEN LOSES THE SYMPATHY OF ALL BY HIS ACTIONS

Keeps on in His Crooked Practices
Even after Convicted.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Dec. 28.—Phil Allen, Jr., wrecker of the First National bank of Mineral Point, falls in the estimation of those who observe him with every passing day. Shortly John P. Halbach, in which Phil Allen is in custody, recently declared:

"When this fathering old man first came to the jail, I was touched with sympathy for him, and thought that subsequent developments might show that he was perhaps as much stained against as sinning, a victim of circumstances, perhaps a scapegoat for others who were more to blame than he for the terrible situation in the bank. But as I have observed the conduct of the man from day to day, I have come to look upon him as a very common, and a very big and bad criminal."

The revolution in the bankruptcy court, in which the cleverness of Allen before and after his arrest is being uncovered, abundantly bears out the declaration which the sheriff made in private conversation a week ago. Every day that testimony is taken before Referee in Bankruptcy H. M. Lewis brings out new details of Allen's doing. It was shown that before being arrested Allen was forging the names of the people of the town right and left and the money was flowing at a rapid rate into all kinds of ventures, most of them of the most flimsy and unbusinesslike character, as investments. Then when the bubble burst and the bank was closed, Allen went on in his wickedness. He started being sick unto death, but while his wife was weeping and looking for officers of the law from "distressing" him who was declared to be dying, the criminal was busily engaged in attempting to salvage his victims even out of the derelict from the ruin he had wrought. He was transferring to relatives all the property and securities in which he thought value might lie. Then the law could no longer be brought back and Allen was arrested and held to Madison, to jail. Some delay was due to necessary proceedings before the federal grand jury, but Allen was busy all the time between the arrest and the time of his sentence, for two potatoes were frequently ended upon by him to take his sworn acknowledgment of the transfer of valuable documents to friends and relatives, mostly relatives. Some of these took to have been utterly unaware of the fact that they were assisting a criminal in the performance of criminal acts, and Allen's wife, sister and other relatives have been arrested for their parts in his struggle to defraud his creditors. From Chicago, Minneapolis, Winona and other places attorneys, at the head of whom is Ralph W. Jackman, formerly of Janesville, have brought back papers to show these unlawful transactions. Allen seems to have gotten himself into the meshes of wickedness farther and farther at every step, all of which is being revealed in the hearings now being conducted in the bankruptcy court. Allen will be kept here until those proceedings are completed, when he will be taken to Leavenworth prison to serve ten years.

HEDGER CASE IS NEARING AN END

MILWAUKEE ALLEGED WIFE MUR-DERER LISTENS TO TESTIMONY.

Defendant Remains An Expert
At The Rifle At Target.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Milwaukee, Dec. 28.—At the Hedger trial today, Thomas C. Hayes, whose wife and Mrs. Hedger were slain and who boarded at the Hedger home for three years after his wife's death in 1901, testified to quarrels between the Hedgers and to the fact that Hedger is a good marksman. One of the quarrels was in connection with the claim which the Hedgers put in to half of the estate of Charles W. Stolla, a boarder who had died at their home.

Mr. Hedger testified that Mrs. Hedger had refused to testify when the claim was heard in probate court. The witness also gave testimony which may have a bearing on the claim made by Assistant District Attorney C. A. McGee in his opening statement to the jury that Hedger had forged Stolla's signature to a receipt for the repayment of a loan of $1,000. "At one time Mr. Hedger asked his wife what she thought of certain signatures," Mrs. Hedger said. "They slipped your flower in the bud."

Mr. Hayes said that he and Hedger had often practiced target shooting with an air rifle and that the defendant had gotten to be a good marksman.

LOSS OF LIFE IN A PENNSYLVANIA HOUSE

Seven Children and Three Adults In Home Of Dubois Foreigner Met Death.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Dubois, Pa., Dec. 28.—Seven children ranging from two to twelve years were burned to death and three persons, perhaps fatally injured by an explosion of powder, destroyed the house of Stephen Bransky, a miner at Skysville, Pa. All the victims are foreigners.

LEWIS BELIEVES HE HAS WON POSITION

Present Head United Mine Workers Certain On His Re-election.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 28.—President Lewis of the United Mine workers estimates his majority for reelection at 35,000 over William Green, Cochranton, Ohio.

KANSAS ACADEMY OF SCIENCE HOLDS 42ND ANNUAL MEETING

Three Days Will Be Devoted To Addresses and Discussions On Learned Subjects.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Ottawa, Kan., Dec. 28.—A good attendance marked the opening here today of the forty-second annual meeting of the Kansas Academy of Science. A program of papers, addresses and discussions on educational and scientific subjects will keep the members busy for three days.

INTERNATIONAL EXPERT ON TUBERCULOSIS IS MARRIED

Prof. M. P. Ravennell of the University Of Wisconsin Weds South Carolina Belle.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Charlotte, S. C., Dec. 28.—A wedding of note here today was that of Miss Adele P. Vander Horst of this city and Dr. Mayzyrek Porcher Ravennell of Madison, Wis. The bridegroom is a member of the faculty of the University of Wisconsin and has an international reputation as an authority on tuberculosis and hydrophobia.

CONDITIONS BETTER THROUGH DISTRICT

Revenue Stamps Show More Prosperity in the State.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Madison, Wis., Dec. 28.—"The receipts from revenue stamps sold for cigar and beer stamps during December up to Christmas time have increased something like $2,500 over last year," said Frank R. Bentley, collector of the Second District, today. "This may be taken as an indication, I believe that conditions throughout the district are improving. During the past year the receipts of this office were fully as large as in previous years, and the gain at this time is all the more significant."

The sale of oleomargarine licenses has greatly increased all over the country, due to the high price of butter, and many dealers are handling oleomargarine this year, not only in Wisconsin but in many other states, by dealers who did not at one time have to handle it in former years. The licenses issued in the Second District this year will greatly exceed those of last year.

BEGINS HIS LABORS FOR THE MESSAGES

Taft Preparing Special Message To Congress On Important Subject.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, D. C., Dec. 28.—President Taft today began the preparation for the first of his special messages to congress. This message will deal with the amendments which he believes necessary in the Interstate Commerce and Sherman anti-trust acts.

MASTER MECHANIC KILLED BY ENGINE

Burlington Railway Official Meets Death Under Wheels Of An Engine.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Galesburg, Ill., Dec. 28.—Robert W. Colville, master mechanic of the Galesburg division of Burlington railroad, was run over by a locomotive and killed here today.

FOUR MINERS DIED; WORKINGS DAMAGED

Shot Firms Make Error and Many Died As a Result.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Centerville, Ill., Dec. 28.—Four shot miners were killed in a dust explosion, caused by a "whiffy" shot in mine No. 5, two miles south of here today. The workings were badly damaged. The dead are foreigners. Charles Carlson one of the dead men, lost two relatives in the Cherry disaster.

BURGLARY SIMILAR TO JANESVILLE ONE

Catholic Priest's Home In Oakkosh Is Entered—Wauwau Home Robbed.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Oshkosh, Dec. 28.—Father Zaekil, pastor of the Catholic church at Shrewood, Calumet county, has called on the chief of police for aid in capturing a man who the clergyman believes entered his home last Saturday and robbed him of $300 while he was conducting mass at church. From here he went to Fond du Lac.

Wauwau Home Entered.
Wauwau, Dec. 28.—The residence of H. C. Stewart of the Barker-Stewart lumber company was burglarized last night and a considerable amount of valuables taken but the value is not known as the entire family is spending the winter at Pasadena, Cal. The burglars thoroughly ransacked the house leaving it in a great state of confusion.

TWO LARGE POULTRY SHOWS WERE OPENED

Prize Winning Pet Stock Competes For Valuable Prizes In New York and Dec. Moline.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, Dec. 28.—The glamorous world of burly fowls, intermingled with the movements of cats and the cooing of pigeons, filled Madison Square Garden today at the opening of the twenty-first annual exhibition of the New York Poultry, Pigeon and Pet Stock association. The show, which will continue through the week, is in many respects the biggest affair of its kind ever seen in the metropolis. The exhibits come from all parts of the United States and Canada and include a wide variety of poultry and pigeons, fancy birds, cats, rabbits, guinea pigs and other pet stock.

Iowa Poultry Show.
Des Moines, Ia., Dec. 28.—The eighteenth annual show of the Iowa State Poultry association opened here today in the Coliseum. Several thousand birds, prize-winners from all parts of the West, are on exhibition, and the judges say the quality has never been equaled in the Iowa shows. Premiums to the value of about $10,000, will be distributed among the winners. The judging of exhibits is in charge of W. C. Ellison of Minneapolis, V. G. Warner of Bloomfield, W. S. Russell of Ottumwa and O. L. McCort of Danville.

JERSEY TOWNS MAY CONSOLIDATE SOON

Union Of Half A Dozen Small Towns
May Result In One Large City
Of 150,000.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, Dec. 28.—Following an agitation extending over a period of several years, a half dozen of the flourishing towns lying on the New Jersey side of the Hudson opposite the upper end of Manhattan are engaged in a special election today to decide upon the adoption or rejection of a plan to consolidate. The list includes the towns of West Hoboken, Guttenberg, Union Hill and West New York, and the township of West Bergen and Weehawken. If the plan goes through instead of six separate and distinct towns, the State of New Jersey will be furnished with a new city of approximately 150,000 population.

STRIKE LEADERS TO END CONSULTATION

Return to Chicago After Fruitless Confer With Managers.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 28.—All the strike leaders who have been in consultation with President Hawley of the Switchmen's union have left the city and there are no new developments early today.

In Chicago.
Chicago, Ill., Dec. 28.—A conference between representatives of the railroads and their men was continued here today. No definite action was taken, and the discussions will be resumed.

FREIGHT STEAMER IS THOUGHT LOST

The Capua Has Not Been Seen
For Several Weeks.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Hamburg, Dec. 28.—The German freight steamer "Capua" with her crew of twenty three have been given up for lost. The vessel sailed from this port on December 1st for Genoa and was sighted two days later.

STATE OF KANSAS FIGHTING FOR LOWER PASSENGER RATE

Seeks To Compel Various Roads To Reduce Rates From Three To Half Cents.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 28.—The taking of testimony in the passenger rate case was begun here today, and is between the State of South Dakota, which is seeking a reduction in passenger fares from 3 to 2 1/2 cents a mile, and the various railroads doing business in the State, which are endeavoring to have the present 3-cent rate maintained indefinitely.

COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS HOLD MEETINGS IN SAN FRANCISCO

Will Discuss Methods Of Uniting Traveling Men Throughout the Country.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 28.—The Commercial Travelers' Congress, for which preparations have been making for several months, convened in San Francisco today for a two days' session. The object of the gathering is to discuss methods that will create a feeling of federation among commercial men throughout the country. The East as well as the Pacific coast region is represented at the congress.

A DELOIT YOUTH LOSES AN EYE WHILE PLAYING HUNTER

Relief, Wis., Dec. 28.—Leslie Skelly, aged ten, was shot in the left eye while playing with a companion by a small rifle bullet. The cartridge had stuck in the gun and in working over it exploded it and the bullet entered young Skelly's eye. The entire eye was removed and it was by the nearest chance the bullet did not enter his brain and kill him instantly.

Employed in Advance. In order that the employees of the county might finish up their Christmas shopping and have a Merry Christmas, County Clerk Lee presented them with the orders for their pay on the day before Christmas a few days before the regular pay day.

MANY MEETINGS FOR EDUCATORS

THOUSANDS OF PEDAGOGUES ARE ATTENDING CONVENTIONS.

16 STATES ARE REPRESENTED

Eminent Scholars Will Address Cathedrals Of School Teachers In Various Parts Of the Country.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Charlotte, N. C., Dec. 28.—Sixteen states have sent large delegations to the annual convention of the Southern Educational association, which met in this city today for a three days' session. The various state superintendents of public instruction as well as many county and city superintendents are in attendance, and there are also present many noted educators from various sections of the country who have been invited to address the gathering. Prominent among the latter are former President Eliot of Harvard University, President Judson of the University of Chicago and President Jordan of Leland Stanford University.

Among the noted Southern educators who are scheduled for addresses are President Hill of the University of Missouri, Chancellor Kirkland of Vanderbilt University, President Mezes of the University of Texas, President Donney of Washington and Lee University, President Abercrombie of the University of Alabama, President Venable of the University of North Carolina, President Mitchell of the University of South Carolina, President Kincannon of the University of Mississippi and Prof. Claxton of the University of Tennessee.

In conjunction with the meeting of the Southern Educational association sessions are being held by the American School Peace League, the Southern Association for the Improvement of Public Schools, the Religious Educational association and the Southern Society of Philosophy and Psychology.

Texas Pedagogues.
Dallas, Texas, Dec. 28.—Nearly a thousand teachers are in Dallas for the thirty-first annual meeting of the Texas State Teachers' association. Nearly every city and town of importance in the state is represented among the visitors, and the indications are that the meeting will be the largest and most successful ever held by the association. Many features of entertainment have been provided for the visitors.

The convention opens tonight with addresses of welcome and responses and an address by Hon. Robert D. Cousins. The sessions will begin with the opening of the association on Wednesday and Thursday. Three sessions will be held each day, together with side conferences by the various sections.

The officers of the association are: President, H. P. Triplett of Bonham; first vice president, Miss Clara Dossan of Fort Worth; second vice president, R. G. Hall of Cleburne; third vice president, W. W. Lackey of Midland; secretary, T. D. Brooks of Hillsboro; and treasurer, W. P. Doughty of Marlin. Others who are to take a prominent part in the proceedings include Prof. J. O. Mahoney of Dallas, Prof. J. O. Henderson of the University of Texas, Superintendent P. W. Horn of Houston, Superintendent Clinton of Texas Christian University, President Work of the Texas College of Industrial Arts, President Bruce of the North Texas Normal school, Miss Martha T. Bell of the State Industrial School for Women, Miss Anna H. Robinson of Corsicana, Miss Sarah S. King of San Antonio, Miss Anna Lewis of Fort Worth, Dr. C. Littlejohn of Galveston, and Dr. J. E. Farrington of the University of Texas.

Indiana Teachers.
Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 28.—Educators of Indiana have assembled here for the general annual meetings which are held during Christmas week, and which are composed of all classes engaged in the school work. The important meeting is that of the Indiana State Teachers' association, which has its formal opening in Terre Haute tonight, and which will be in session two or three days. The college section will also be in session, and adjourns of these two, consisting of school officers, city and county superintendents and teachers of English, manual arts, music and history will also meet.

The program of the general sessions is notable for the number of prominent speakers to be heard. Included in the list are Governor Marshall, former Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw, W. N. Clifford of the United States forestry service, and Robert J. Aley, State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Meet in St. Louis.
St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 28.—St. Louis is crowded with hundreds of school teachers who have gathered here from all parts of Missouri for the annual convention of their State association. The convention had its formal opening today and the sessions will continue over Wednesday and Thursday. A number of educators of national prominence will address the gathering.

Florida Teachers Meet.
Deland, Fla., Dec. 28.—Several hundred teachers have arrived here to attend the annual convention of the Florida State Educational association, which will be in session during the next three days. The meetings are to be held in the auditorium of Stetson University and will be presided over by P. A. Hawthorne of Jacksonville.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Dec. 28.—The city is rapidly filling up with teachers, who come to attend the annual meeting of their state association, and the indications are that by tomorrow morning there will be nearly 1,000 visitors here. The names of many leading educators are found on the program, which is one of unusual interest.

Had the Documents.
It was describing the third day's fight at Gettysburg to half a dozen men in the smoking car—how the cannon roared—the muskets crashed—the troops dashed forward—the dead and dying and the trembling of the earth as death moved here and there with mighty tread. He was a glib word-painter, and he brought shivers to his audience. When he had halted for a moment to sigh and shake his head one of the group softly inquired:
"Well, how, did you describe your personal feelings on that day?"
"I don't expect death at any moment!" "No, I can't say I did." "Did time pass slowly or swiftly?" "I can't say." "Were you on the right, left or center?" "I wasn't there at all." "Not there? You were not a participant?" "No, sir." "But you have described the details to us in most graphic language. Do you mean that you were a looker-on from some distant hill?" "Oh, no, I mean that I was in Pittsburg. I got up early that morning and got the papers and read every line of the account, and it was of you that I am mistaken about it. I've got two or three of the old papers here in my grip. I always carry them with me in case there is any disputed point to be decided!"
JON KERR.

Purity Butter
INVITES COMPARISON.
It is the purest, sweetest, most whole-some butter made.
Because it cannot be substituted you should use no other on YOUR table.
Specify Purity Butter to your grocer. It is sold in sealed cartons and crocks. The name of the maker is on every package.
The Shurtleff Co.

Number 118
Drew the Doll at the SAVINGS STORE
13 S. Jackson St.
Look over your tickets. If the doll is not called for by New Year's Eve another drawing will then take place.

Hot Milk
can be served in all sorts of appetizing ways.
It is delicious on winter days.
DRINK OUR PURE PA-3. TEURIZED MILK HOT.
It is a perfect winter food.
Janesville Pure Milk Co.

MILTON JUNCTION MINISTER HAD HIS HOME BROKEN INTO
But the "Burglars" Presented Elder Bond with Gifts of Silver Instead of Stealing.
(Special to this Gazette.)
Milton Junction, Dec. 27.—The home of Elder Bond in this village was entered on Saturday night while he and Mrs. Bond were at church. The so-called "burglars" proved benevolent rather than vicious for instead of stealing from the elder they left gifts of silver and linen.
The Misses Della and Viola Morvatt spent Tuesday with relatives in Fort Atkinson.
On Saturday, last, the S. D. B. Sabbath school elected officers and teachers for the ensuing year. In the evening they gave a sacred concert under the leadership of Mrs. Ester Loofboro. The church was tastefully decorated with red and green. The Christmas tree in the basement of the church for the little ones went happiness to many a heart.
Mrs. Lillian Webster and son of Chicago are spending the week with her father.
Dr. Ticknor's daughter, of Blanchardville, is visiting friends here.
Prof. Allen West's children, Allen, Jr., and Miss Miriam, are home for the holiday vacation.
Miss Laura Maxwell went to Whitewater on Monday to spend the week.
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Langworthy entertained a company of friends at dinner today.
Ezra Hamilton of Chippewa Falls is visiting friends in town.
Smith Drees and wife, and son, Harley, were guests of A. J. Baker and family over Christmas. Henry Drees of Lake Mills was also present at the Baker home.
A. J. Baker and family went to Lowell this morning for a two weeks' visit with her sister, Mrs. Roth.
Elder and Mrs. Sharpe spent Xmas with their son, Winford Sharp and family in Hobron.
Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Rawson and son of Chicago spent Xmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Helne.
Miss Clair Pryce, entertained the Misses Anna and Miriam West and Mable Maxon to tea Monday evening. Harry Shrader and Frank Maxwell and family took dinner at C. C. Maxwell's on Sunday.
Dr. and Mrs. Maxon entertained Mr. Greenman and family at dinner on Tuesday. In honor of Mr. Greenman's birthday.
Mr. and Mrs. Gage entertained over Christmas Mr. and Mrs. Bush of Milwaukee, Mrs. Foote and Miss Whims of Janesville.
D. E. Thorpe and family entertained at Xmas dinner, A. C. Thorpe and wife of Janesville, Will Thorpe and family, E. M. Butts and family of Delavan. Mr. Butts was called home Monday but Mrs. Butts and daughter, Arline, will remain a few days.
Mrs. Amelia Couckley and son, Will, have gone to Whitewater for a few days.
Mr. and Mrs. Clark Palmer, daughter, Hazel, and son, James, Miss Rose Callison, Mrs. Ellen Brown and Mr. and Mrs. James Callison and son, Oscar, of the county farm, were guests at the Hassenger home.

Heart to Heart Talks.
By EDWIN A. NYE.
ONLY A SECTION HAND.
A few days ago Frank Angolletta died the hero's death.
Section hand? A hero? Yes, and he was an Italian only a year over from the old country and just twenty-one.
It was on the Panhandle railroad, near Steubenville, O. The young man was walking the track when he noted a little schoolgirl in danger of being run down on another track by a freight train.
By shouting and gestures he induced the girl to get off the track just in time to save her. But—
So intent was Angolletta in saving the girl that a passenger train unheeded bore down upon him and crushed out his life.
That is one story of heroism in our common life, everyday heroism. Here is another:
Not long ago a Mexican section hand on the Santa Fe railroad in New Mexico saved the lives of hundreds of passengers on a limited train.
The section men had been repairing the track, and all was supposed to be right. The heavy train was bearing down on the section gang when suddenly a little bent Mexican discovered something wrong with a rail.
He saw that if the rail was not fixed the train would be wrecked. He jumped to the place and spiked it. And—
Before the little old man could get away the engine struck him and threw his poor, mangled body into the ditch.
Inside the train men yelled and read and smoked and women talked to one another, all unconscious of their quick deliverance.
And the little old Mexican died in the ditch.
One of these section hands was fresh from the vineyard slopes of southern Italy; the other had a wife and children in old Mexico, and they were heroes, both.
Surely, And if you have ever looked disdainfully on a "dingo" or classed all "gronkers" as cutthroats be ashamed of yourself and of your intolerance of race.
Any of us should be proud to claim kinship with these so-called "common men" (there are no common men in the eyes of the Father) as white as the inside as you or the president of this country.
"God hath made of one blood all the nations of the earth," and into the soul of every people he has put the Godlike.
Is it not so?

Agreeable Conversation.
There is no conversation so agreeable as that of the man of integrity, who hears without any intention to betray, and speaks without any intention to deceive.—Nicol.

OBITUARY.
Mrs. E. J. Goley.
This morning at nine o'clock funeral services for Mrs. E. J. Goley were held at St. Mary's church, conducted by Fr. William A. Gobel. The funeral was quite a large one and the floral offerings were many and beautiful. Justin Goley, Joseph Goley, Joseph Kolb, Jerry Murphy, John Kimmet and William McLaughlin were the pallbearers. The remains were interred in Mt. Olivet cemetery.
Mrs. William Selloek.
The remains of Mrs. William Selloek who died in Chicago arrived in Janesville yesterday afternoon and taken immediately to the chapel at Oak Hill. Rev. John McKinney conducted the services. The remains were laid at rest in Oak Hill cemetery. The pallbearers: J. C. L. Fildell, J. H. Jones, E. G. Harlow, W. Douglas, Charles Curtis, Edward Smith, and Charles Schwartz. Mr. and Mrs. Selloek formerly made their home in this city but moved to Chicago several years ago. Mr. Selloek has been connected with the office force of the McCormick company. Mrs. Selloek was Miss Brinks before her marriage.
Mrs. Daniel Warden.
Mrs. Daniel Warden passed away yesterday afternoon at two o'clock at her home on South River street. The deceased was twenty-two years of age and leaves to mourn her loss a husband and twin babies, a girl and a boy. The funeral will be held from St. Mary's church Wednesday morning at nine o'clock.
Herman A. Hell.
The funeral of Herman Hell was held yesterday afternoon from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Manthel on Locust street, Rev. W. P. Christy officiating. The remains were laid at rest in Oak Hill cemetery. Paul, William and Henry Hell and Benjamin, Paul and William Keri were the pallbearers.
Henry D. Morgan.
Evanston, Wis., Dec. 28.—Henry D. Morgan, a respected resident of Rock county for fifty-five years, died here this morning after a brief illness. He leaves to mourn his loss a son, B. W. Morgan of Racine, and his widow, two sisters, Miss Ella Morgan of Stoughton, Miss Ella Morgan of Cookville, and a brother, Howell Morgan. Notice of the funeral will be given later.

Uncle Walt THE POET PHILOSOPHER
By WALT MASON.
(Copyright, 1900, by George Mathew Adams.)
You he sailed away from home Willie Watson wrote a poem. Warbled he, with punctured lung, some-thing of a serpent's tongue, Willie, tongue, which, he said, a high-placed dame, used to injure and defame. People cried: "O, hully gee! Who's the dame of high degree? Give her name and station, pray!" Willie Watson said away. "Twas the scandal of the age; guessing contests were the rage; people wondered who the bard wrote, with fountain pen, so hard; and the papers pawed the air, speculating in despair: 'Twixt whose jawbones is it hung—that outrageous serpent's tongue? Tell, O tell the truth today!" Willie Watson said away. Then the poet reached this shore, where our native bardlets roar, and he stepped on Freedom's ground, and reporters rallied round, asking: "Who's the dame or maid, that our little Willie flayed?" To the crowd the name he flung, of the girl with serpent's tongue. O the brethren of the press knew the depths of sorrow, knew what malice can achieve, see the volts that hate can weave; and they size up minds and lads, noblemen and kings and eads; and they sing this simple lay: "Willie Watson, sail away!"

THE ANNUAL RESOLUTION.
Bert—Have you decided on any New Year resolutions?
Ned—Only one. Next year I shall begin my Christmas shopping about the middle of October.
THE REASON.
Tom—I see you've started drinking again.
Dick—Yes, I want to make myself comfortable with my best girl by swearing off New Year's.

FOREIGNERS ON READING
LADY MARY HAD HER BAGGAGE SEARCHED AT THE CUSTOMS.
"VOT IT MEANS?"
What Artistic country?

THE ELECTRICAL WORLD
ELECTRICAL NOTES.
The Ohio state university will conduct a wireless course next year. There are 4,000 electric lights in the streets of the ancient city of Damascus.
Paris has 62 electric street car lines, carrying 190,000,000 passengers a year.
Greece has so little coal that practically all of its electric power is derived from waterfalls.
The tungsten incandescent lamp is the first artificial light by which all colors can be distinguished.
A six-foot electric kaleidoscope, designed for advertising purposes, is capable of 16,383 changes of design.
The first alarm of fire given by electricity was sounded at Boston on the evening of April 29, 1852.
The Italian government has established a bureau to deal exclusively with the electrification of the state railroads, which is making rapid strides.
Acetylene, exploded by an electric spark, is being used for blasting in Germany. It does not scatter the shattered rock as much as dynamite.
English scientists were making substantial progress in the knowledge of the phenomena of electricity a century and a half before Franklin flew his historic kite.
Good results have attended the extension test made in the Chicago public library of the adaptation of the electric ozone generation to ventilating systems of public buildings.
Electricity at last has been applied to the Teddy bear, a Maryland man having patented one that opens its jaws and flashes lights from its eyes, nose and mouth when a battery in its interior is pressed.

REGULATE RAYS BY SCREENS
Any Degree of Artificial Light Can Be Produced by Photographers in Their Studios.
Clear days or cloudy days and any degree of light can now be produced at will by photographers in their own studios. This is through the ingenuity of a Massachusetts man who has invented an apparatus for producing artificial skylight effects. In one corner of the studio, near the ceiling, is an electric light, or some other artificial light, though electricity is better, because steadier. In front of this is a glass partition, hinged in the middle, so that it can be adjusted to vary the angle at which the light strikes it. In front of this is a series of screens. By changing the angle of the partition and adding or removing screens, almost any light effect can be produced, from the glare of bright sunlight to the shadow of a cloudy day. The illustration shows an electric light bulb, with reflector, so arranged that it can be raised or lowered on cords, behind the partition and increases the possibilities of the apparatus.
Sure Thing.
When a woman wonders why she is taking on flesh, and a man tells her it is because she eats too much and doesn't do enough work, it is safe to say that this is a married couple.

DRUG TALK WORTH READING
The high price of crude rubber of the last years has brought out adulterations of rubber goods. White rubber water bags and syringes are loaded with white lead, the red rubber goods are artificially colored with mercury oxide, a strong poison. Hot water left in these bags becomes impregnated with mercury, then used as a douche may cause serious inflammation. The cheap rubber goods are sold mostly outside of drug stores to merchants that do not understand the chemical nature of the goods they sell, therefore do great harm to the public through a lack of knowledge.
"Think of your baby nursing a nipple adulterated with lead or mercury. Possibly his bowel and stomach trouble could be traced to this cause."
Our rubber goods are purchased by Mr. Plouffe, a graduate pharmacist and chemist. They are therefore safe to use. We guarantee good wear. Our prices are always fair.
Water bags, 75c up. Syringes, 50c to $2.00. Combination bag and syringe, $1.25.
GADGER DRUG CO.
Milwaukee and River Sts.
Read the ads and save money.

THE BURROUGHS ADDING MACHINE.
But it does more than add.
It puts the figures down,—prints them plain and unmistakably.
It puts them down in columns faster than you can write them,—almost as fast as you can think them.
And when you have the figures down, you move a lever while you press a key and the total is instantly printed at the foot of the column.
It will add dollars.
It will add cents.
Units and decimals.
It will add pounds.
It will add fractions of pounds.
Units and fractions.
It will put down sub-totals anywhere you want them, mark them as such, and carry them on into the addition and the grand total.
And all in one-sixth the time it would take a "lightning calculator."
All with infallible accuracy because it is mechanically impossible for it to make a mistake.
To an employee this means a double productive saving.
First a saving of five-sixths of the time employees now devote to original additions.
Second a saving of all the time devoted to verifying additions,—searching for mistakes.
This time saved costs the employer good hard cash, a Burroughs Adding Machine produces this time,—for more profitable employment,—work that requires brains.
And—
It means prompt trial balances.
Prompt statements of the condition of the business, when a "stitch in time" may "save nine."
Incidental figures asked for at odd times quickly and reliably.
To the head accountant it means peace of mind and a pleased employer.
Peace of mind because "the boys" can't get wrong totals to put into main accounts.

—this business economy will increase your profits:
A pleased employer because promptness and accuracy leave him no cause for impatience.
To the clerk it means relief from the aching drudgery of close application to long columns of figures hour after hour.
No more night work verifying hours of work that must all be gone over because of a slip somewhere, an error, caused not by carelessness, but by the involuntary rebellion of the mind against machine work.
It means a saving of time that can be devoted to work that requires brains.
Time that can be used to help the man next higher up,—to fit you for his "job" and help you to it because you give the man who has it time to learn the requirements for the position he is in line for.
If you are a clerk and know your brains would be of more value to your employer, don't be a machine. Show this to the man next higher up and help him "put it through" to the head of your department.
If you manage a department that has to do with figures, show this to your employer and tell him how you could use the time saved in your department to better advantage, more to his profit.
If you are managing a business estimate from your pay-roll the value of the time your employees devote to adding figures. It can all be saved, five-sixths of it directly, and surely the other sixth by applying it more profitably.
The machine pays for itself.
The Burroughs Adding Machine is not an experiment (over 90,000 are in daily use).
But—
We don't ask you to take our word for all these claims.
We do not ask you to buy a Burroughs Adding Machine.
We do not ask you to even rent one.
Just try one at our expense.
Our machine is simple of operation,—any clerk can "work it" in five minutes,—become expert in a few days.
We will show you how it will help the work of many departments, in many ways.
Just let us lend you one without any obligation on your part to buy.
Keep it and use it a week; two weeks, a month if you will.
If it does not itself prove beyond the shadow of a doubt that it will pay for itself and then work to your permanent economy and profit and improve the general efficiency of your organization,—drop us a line and we'll come and get it without a word.
We take all the risk.
Won't you just try a machine for which we claim so much with the confidence shown by our putting the burden of proof on the machine itself and our offer to lend you one?
Right now before you misplace this paper, fill out the attached coupon, sign it and mail it to us.
Business Economy Coupon
Gentlemen:—
I don't think I'm ready for a Burroughs on Trial—but will be glad to see literature explaining its money-saving features in my particular business.
Name
Address
Business
Fill out and mail to Burroughs Adding Machine Co., 340 Burroughs Block, Detroit, Mich.
Form 862A

Demonstration of German American COFFEE

Mr. N. F. Cornell will give a demonstration on the merits of the German American Coffee Co.'s Iowa Brand Coffee, at this store, Tomorrow, Wed., Dec. 29. Cups of this delicious coffee will be served FREE, with either crackers or wafers.

J. T. Shields
Riverview Park Grocery. Both Phones

AGED COUPLE FOUND SLAIN

WILLIAM E. RITTER AND WIFE ARE FOUND WITH HEADS CRUSHED.

BODIES ARE FROZEN STIFF

Evidence Points to Murder of Elderly Pair for Money—Position of Corpses Shows Terrific Struggle Had Taken Place.

Washington, Ind., Dec. 28.—The frozen bodies of William E. Ritter, aged 70, and his wife, Mary E., were found by Milton Ketchum as he entered their home and to all appearances the aged couple had been dead since last Saturday.

Kept Much Money in Home. The Ritters are wealthy and have a reputation of keeping large sums of money about their home. Mr. Ketchum is the overseer of the large Ritter farm and Friday he and his family went to the home of a friend several miles distant to spend Christmas and was returning home. Seeing the Ritter home practically deserted, Mr. Ketchum investigated. He found Mrs. Ritter upon the floor of the sitting room, her clothing being practically torn from her body and blood over the furniture. A "dog iron" used in the fire place is supposed to have been the death-dealing instrument. The furniture was displaced, which gave evidence of a struggle. The woman's feet had been in contact with fire as her legs were badly burned.

Head Crushed by Iron Rod. In a milk house was found the body of Mr. Ritter, frozen stiff in a kneeling position, where he had fallen among the milk crocks. An iron rod was lying near the body and his head was crushed. Coroner Holder has gone to the scene of the murder. It is thought the murderer took advantage of the absence of the overseer and killed and robbed the old couple. The Ritters were among the best-known citizens of Davles county and the murder has created great excitement.

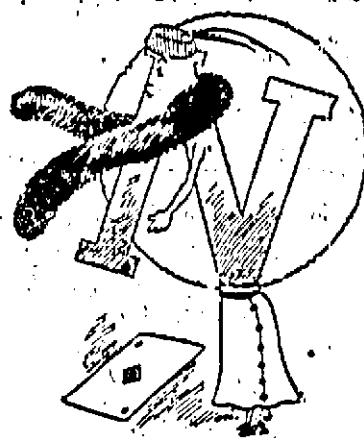

Mother Accused of Murdering Boys. Cleveland, O., Dec. 28.—Charged with murder of her two children and with having set fire to her home to conceal the crimes, Mrs. Paul Somers was arrested in an apparently deranged condition. The bodies of the two little boys, aged six and three years, respectively, were found in their home after the fire had been extinguished, with their heads beaten in by some blunt instrument.

Kills Man for $400. Sandusky, O., Dec. 28.—Mystery surrounding the killing of Agostino Dema, a leader in the large Italian colony here, was cleared up by Frank Henah, who said he had committed the murder for $400.

This sum, he said, was paid him by Jim Primer, another Italian, who, Henah explained, wanted to marry the victim's wife, Primer and Mrs. Dema were placed under arrest.

Farmer's Daughter Slain. Portsmouth, O., Dec. 28.—Mystery surrounds the finding of the dead body of Miss Catho Wilson, 18 years old, on the floor of the kitchen of her father's farmhouse near Powellsville. Across the body lay a rifle, a bullet from which had pierced her heart.

Girl Slain in Toledo. Toledo, O., Dec. 28.—Carol Hunt, aged 18, was instantly killed and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Hunt, were wounded, not seriously, in a shooting affray. Joseph Mackley, aged 25, who is charged with having shot them, is sought by the police.

Very necessary in the house?
Have money—read advertisements.

Right On Time.

It was a man with a sober, thinking face. He was a man of profound thought, who paid but little attention to the trifles of everyday life. For instance, he did not see the by and by ahead of him as he wandered along with his hands under his coat tails. New Year's morn, and there were local results. His feet went up and his body came down, and as another pedestrian held out a hand to assist him to rise the victim exclaimed:

"By George! By George!"

"Yes, you slipped."

"But I trust you did not do yourself a mortal injury?"

"I do not, sir. Do you believe in fortune-telling?"

"Not a bit."

"But you should believe—yes, sir, you should. Here is living proof that those astrologers are correct."

"I do not understand."

"Why, it was only four days ago that one of them told me that the year 1939 would be very lucky for me, and here I am before you of the very first day."

"But, sir, you fell down."

"So did—on the sidewalk. Remembering I had fallen from the forty-seventh story of a skyscraper!"

JOE KIRK.

Kinder Mixed.

"VV," said the farmer to the grocer after his eggs had been counted out. "So many things have been happening the last year that we are kinder mixed up at our house, and I wish you'd answer a few questions."

"With pleasure."

"Was it Senator Foraker who went to South Africa?"

"Oh, no. That was Teddy."

"And was there a big earthquake in Nebraska?"

"That was in Italy."

"And was it Chastity Dewey who flew across the English Channel?"

"No, that was a Frenchman, I believe."

"Well, which liked—California or Japan?"

"But they have had no war."

"Well, then, did Bryan pay over them $20,000,000 yet?"

"No, that was the Standard Oil Company, and it hasn't paid."

"Well, by Jinks, I'll have been hunking corn and eating each other here, and isn't the old woman have been all right around the town and calling each other fools, and here the bull three of us have been muddled and mixed 'til we didn't know a jackass from a mule?"

"Lord, but how folks can drop behind the times when they don't go to prayer-meeting but once in three months!"

JOE KIRK.

Theatre Beautiful

LYRIC

Pride of Janesville

TONIGHT AND WEDNESDAY

TO-NIGHT

WEDNESDAY MATINEE

Holiday Week Feature

Jack Young and Belle Foley, CLEVER COMEDY NOVELTY ACT

The singing, dialogue and acrobatic work of this team is far above the ordinary. They have played in the best houses in the country and are known as the snappiest novelty comedians now traveling.

New Motion Pictures and Illustrated Songs.

The picture tonight will be a powerful newspaper drama, "The Power of the Press." Mrs. Kniff will sing a beautiful popular air: "Girl of Mine."

Admission 10c; children 5c.

One-piece Dresses in Broadcloths, Panamas, Prunellas, etc., at reduced prices.

POND AND BAILEY

One-piece Dresses in Broadcloths, Panamas, Prunellas, etc., at reduced prices.

SPLENDID AFTER HOLIDAY REDUCTIONS

If you have not bought your Suit, Coat or Furs for the season, now is the time to do so. There are still three months of cold weather, and the saving you can make at this time, will warrant you spending the money.

In Suits we have all sizes, from 34 to 47. If you can find the color to please you, we have your size; nothing but This Season's Models.

| | | | |
|-----------------------|---------|-----------------------|---------|
| Suits at $22.50, now | $11.25 | Suits at $30.00, now | $15.00 |
| Suits at $25.00, now | $12.50 | Suits at $35.00, now | $17.50 |
| Suits at $27.50, now | $13.75 | Suits at $40.00, now | $20.00 |

No charge for alterations.

In Coats, the 54-inch seven-eighths fitted, has been the favorite this season, and we have a splendid assortment in blacks, and grey mixtures. Prices are greatly reduced.

NO CHARGE FOR ALTERATIONS.

This has been a great fur season; and rather than have our money tied up in furs for six months, we will close out all we have at prices to please you.

| | |
|--|---------|
| $35 Blue Wolf Set, large shawl collar and large pillow mull | $24.00 |
| $35 Natural Gray Fox Set, Russian collar and coat mull | $25.00 |
| $35 Black Lynx Set, shawl collar and large pillow mull | $26.00 |
| $47.40 Black Lynx Set, Russian collar and large pillow mull | $35.00 |
| $35 Jap Mink Set, large fancy collar and large pillow mull | $25.00 |

All other sets equally low in price.

CORSETS

You may think you are well corseted, but you will never know what real comfort is until you are fitted to one of the J. C. C.'s $1.00.

This is the J. C. C. Premium, a model new this season, built by a house noted for the successful fit of their goods.

The J. C. C. Premium is long in accordance with present day demands. The skirt extension is unboned and the seam which joins the extension to the corset proper reinforces its strength and prevents tearing or stretching when a sitting position is assumed.

Our Hosiery Department is gaining new friends every day. Buy one pair, make comparison with past purchases, and you will be convinced that our claim of the best hosiery is warranted.

OUR KID GLOVES

are without equal. At $1.00 we offer a genuine imported French lamb skin, two-clasp, black and colors.

We fit them to your hand and guarantee them to be perfect.

POND AND BAILEY

Janesville's Floral Shopping Center, 23-25 W. MILWAUKEE ST.

Watch us Grow.

Children's Wash Dress

in percales and gingham, at 60 cents to $3.25.

Clearing of Shirt Waists in broken sizes.

$1.00 values 60c

$1.25 values 80c

$1.75 values 98c

The Janesville Gazette

New Bldg. 200-204 N. Milwaukee St.

ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT JANESVILLE, WIS., AS SECOND CLASS MAIL MATTER.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Snow flurries tonight or Wednesday; not much change in temperature.

MEMBER OF ASSOCIATED PRESSBUSINESS OFFICE OPEN SATURDAY EVENING.*TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

Daily Edition—By Carrier.

One Month.....$ 5.00

One Year.....50.00

Six Months.....25.00

Daily Edition—By Mail.

One Month.....$ 5.00

One Year.....50.00

Six Months.....25.00

Daily Edition—By Mail.

One Month.....$ 5.00

One Year.....50.00

Six Months.....25.00

Daily Edition—By Mail.

One Month.....$ 5.00

One Year.....50.00

Six Months.....25.00

Daily Edition—By Mail.

One Month.....$ 5.00

One Year.....50.00

Six Months.....25.00

Daily Edition—By Mail.

One Month.....$ 5.00

One Year.....50.00

Six Months.....25.00

Daily Edition—By Mail.

One Month.....$ 5.00

One Year.....50.00

Six Months.....25.00

Daily Edition—By Mail.

One Month.....$ 5.00

One Year.....50.00

Six Months.....25.00

Daily Edition—By Mail.

One Month.....$ 5.00

One Year.....50.00

Six Months.....25.00

Daily Edition—By Mail.

One Month.....$ 5.00

One Year.....50.00

Six Months.....25.00

Daily Edition—By Mail.

One Month.....$ 5.00

One Year.....50.00

Six Months.....25.00

Daily Edition—By Mail.

One Month.....$ 5.00

One Year.....50.00

Six Months.....25.00

Daily Edition—By Mail.

One Month.....$ 5.00

One Year.....50.00

Six Months.....25.00

Daily Edition—By Mail.

One Month.....$ 5.00

One Year.....50.00

Six Months.....25.00

Daily Edition—By Mail.

One Month.....$ 5.00

One Year.....50.00

Six Months.....25.00

Daily Edition—By Mail.

One Month.....$ 5.00

One Year.....50.00

Six Months.....25.00

Daily Edition—By Mail.

One Month.....$ 5.00

One Year.....50.00

Six Months.....25.00

Daily Edition—By Mail.

One Month.....$ 5.00

One Year.....50.00

Six Months.....25.00

Daily Edition—By Mail.

One Month.....$ 5.00

One Year.....50.00

Six Months.....25.00

Daily Edition—By Mail.

One Month.....$ 5.00

One Year.....50.00

Six Months.....25.00

Daily Edition—By Mail.

One Month.....$ 5.00

One Year.....50.00

Six Months.....25.00

Daily Edition—By Mail.

One Month.....$ 5.00

One Year.....50.00

Six Months.....25.00

Daily Edition—By Mail.

One Month.....$ 5.00

One Year.....50.00

Six Months.....25.00

Daily Edition—By Mail.

One Month.....$ 5.00

One Year.....50.00

Six Months.....25.00

Daily Edition—By Mail.

the procession? Prosperity is here, why not enjoy it?

GROWING SENTIMENT

That the sentiment for a more practical course of study in the common schools is growing among educators, is evident from discussions in state teachers' associations. The latest endorsement comes from W. F. Webster, president of the Wisconsin association.

Referring to higher education, Mr. Webster said that the high schools of the state devoted too much energy to educating students for the university. He said that one high school student out of six enters college and that the high school should serve the five rather than the one. He said it is impossible in the smaller school to separate students who are going to college and those who are not, saying: "Classes would be so small that the community could not stand the enormous cost. In small schools there is but one thing to do: All pupils must work together. And if, perchance, there be one youth who would go forward with his education, the university should receive such a student. If the list of entrance requirements is too narrow to allow such a youth to pass its portals, then they must be widened. Wherever ambition for more knowledge is found with intellectual power, no matter how that power has been developed, it is the duty of a great state to foster it, never forgetting that the strength of the nation has always come from the countryside."

This presents a hopeful outlook, for the educator controls the situation to a large extent. The average parent is so indifferent that ignorance is deplorable. The result is that an army of boys enter active life from the grades every year, totally deficient of knowledge which the schools are maintained to furnish.

This lack of elementary equipment is a serious loss, and handicaps them at the threshold of the great university where competition enters so largely into the struggle for existence.

This army of boys represent the great average. They are the recruiting force for the ranks of the larger army of average men who depend upon skillful hands to maintain a footing and work out a destiny in the world of industry.

The knowledge which the schools should furnish to this multitude of boys should be so intensely practical that the equipment of mind and brain would contribute to the work of the hand in generous measure. When this is done the common schools will accomplish the mission for which they exist, and higher education will not suffer in consequence.

NOT THE MEN BUT THE SYSTEM

Not the men but the system, is the subject for criticism in discussing the commission form of government. Janesville has a good council, above the average. The mayor has long been recognized as one of the best businessmen in the city, but he will tell you that the system blocks his ambition for better government, at almost every turn of the wheel. The aldermen are good men, but hampered by the same system.

The special charter, which some people regard sacred, is a crazy quilt, patched up from time to time during the past generation, and incompatible to the ordinary mind. Any business corporation would abandon it in short order.

This charter, coupled with long usage, is largely responsible for the system which deprives men of authority and renders service inefficient. The mayor is supposed to be an autocrat, but he is as helpless as a child.

The chief commissioner is held accountable for our streets, but he is so destitute of authority that he can't regulate a sprinkling cart.

The city engineer may establish grades and lay out the work, but there his authority ceases, for some ward inspector passes on the finished product.

These are only a few of the minor defects of the system under which we expect results from a council. Don't you think a change is desirable?

THE STAR CHAMBER

The commission form of government commends itself because no star chamber annex is required.

The business of the commission is done in the open because it is public business and there is nothing to conceal.

The methods employed are business methods, the same as would be practiced by any private corporation.

The commissioners are public servants, paid for their time and ability, and their offices are open during the business hours of every day.

The star chamber is the cunning department where the fruits of labor may be cut and dried as occasion demands.

It is an unnecessary adjunct and detrimental to the best interests of city government.

The watchword of the present era is publicity and the city can well afford to adopt it.

The people are entitled to know what their representatives propose to do, before they do it.

Adopt the commission form of government, and the star chamber will soon become a relic of the past.

HEAVY IMPORTS

The November imports into the United States continue to show large gains in manufacturers' raw materials, hides and skins, for example, imported in November, 1909, amounted to $11,500,000, against $11,000,000 in the preceding year; India rubber, $8,000,000, against $7,500,000 in the preceding year; the same month of the preceding year; raw wool, nearly 4 million dollars, against less than 2 million in the same month of last year; and pig copper, 33 million dollars, against a little more than 2 million in November of last year; while other articles for use in manufacturing also show an increase.

These figures are compiled by the Bureau of Commerce and Labor. They indicate a healthy condition and are an index to prosperity, which is so universal, just now, that it is not half appreciated.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

We Announce that the firm name of F. J. Bick & Co. will be changed to as Mr. Bick has withdrawn from the firm. The business will continue as heretofore, and we shall aim to give the best service possible and to have our prices just a little bit better than right.

Gardner's Grocery

We expect to have some very interesting advertisements in the near future.

Best Creamery Butter, 38c lb.

Mansfield Maple and Cane Syrup, 10c and 25c bottle.

Sweet Potatoes, 7 lbs. 25c.

Supreme Flour, $1.40.

Colvin's and Bennison's Baked Goods.

Home-made Mince Meats and Cookies.

L. Iken & Son's Cookies.

Gardner's Grocery

L. Iken & Son's Cookies.

The Store of QUALITY

SPECIAL PRICES ON WASHING POWDER, ETC.

5c Wisdom Powder, 6 for 25c.

5c Johnson's Powder, 6 for 25c.

Snow Boy Powder, 6 for 25c.

5c 1776 Powder, 2c.

Sopade, Acme Bath Brick, Babbitt's Soap, Maple City Soap.

Gloves, Mittens, Caps for winter.

Snow Shovels.

All kinds of extracts.

Apples for Mince Meat, 25c peck.

4 cans Corn, 25c.

4 cans Peas, 25c.

4 cans Pumpkin, 25c.

2 cans Peas, 1 can Corn, 1 can Pumpkin, 25c.

Fox Berries, sweeter than Cranberries, 10c quart.

Butternuts 50c peck.

Hickory Nuts.

Tomato Tones, 25c bottle.

Richellon Red Raspberry Syrup.

Snider's Oyster Cocktail Sauce, 25c.

Snider's Salad Dressing.

Durkoo's Salad Dressing, 25c and 50c.

Richellon Salad Dressing.

Club House Salad Dressing.

Kitchen Bouquet, 25c.

Bouillon Stock.

Armour's Tomato Bouillon.

Beck's Nut Peanut Butter 10c, 15c and 25c.

Walker's Red Hot Chile Con Carne.

Spiced Herring, 10c lb.

Trout, Halibut, Salmon Steak.

Fish every day.

Stoppenbach's 3-lb. and 5-lb. pailla lard.

Very Dark Brown Sugar.

Albany Buckwheat and Graham.

2 cans Juneau Peas, 25c.

Midget String Beans, 22c can.

Dried Peas, 10c lb.

Fancy Eating Apples 10c, 3 for 25c.

Tabasco Brand Okra and Tomatoes.

Fresh Dwarf Okra in cans.

Larsen's Special Vegetables for soup all ready in cans.

Kaukuck Brand Maple and Cane Syrup.

Layton's Boiled Hams and Bacon.

Skelly Grocery Co.

11-13 S. Jackson St.

Katzenjammer.

"The worst thing about taking a day off and having a good time," groaned Ludwig, bathing his aching head, "is that you need about two days to forget it!"

What metal?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

Making for the Ideal.

The surest hope of preserving what is best, lies in the practice of an immense charity, a wide tolerance, a sincere respect for opinions that are not ours.—P. G. Hamerton.

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

What kind of tree?

What weapon?

Filling a Tooth

means saving a tooth and is a matter of great importance. The process is as interesting as it is important. The dentist first cleans out all decay from the hollow in the tooth, then packs the cavity with filling material—usually silver—and finally taps it gently to make the edges tight and firm and exclude all further decay.

The average life of a filling is said to be about 7 to 8 years, but I have seen fillings O. K. after 30 years of service.

Good fillings save your teeth and prevent lots of sickness.

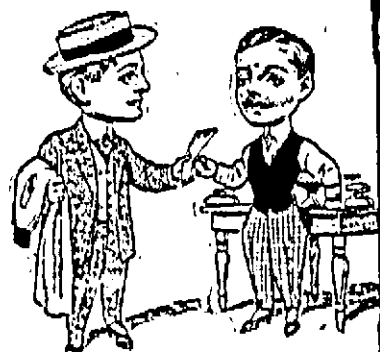

The cost is little.

DR. F. T. RICHARDS

GRADUATE DENTIST.

Office over Hall & Bayles Jewelry store
Janesville, Wis.

CLEANERS and DYERS

Our regular patrons unanimously declare that our system of Cleaning and Pressing is superior to any they have ever tried before. We aim to please by giving perfect work. We never injure a garment in any way, but impart a freshness and softness to every article we handle.

CARL F. BROCKHAUS
JANESVILLE DYE WORKS
Opposite Myers House.

ESTABLISHED 1855

—THE—

First National Bank

Capital$125,000
Surplus and Profits.$125,000
Stockholder's Liability$125,000

A savings account in a Strong Bank is a

Good Investment

All deposits put in our Savings Department on or before January 10, will draw interest from January 1.

RINK

Ladies' Free Night
Wednesday

The Optimist's Corner

Daily Helps to Health and Happiness

By GEORGE F. BUTLER, A. M., M. D.

Many people could be rendered perfectly happy with the happiness which is lost in the world. We lose happiness because we often despise calm, quiet pleasures, and take interest and delight in nothing but that which excites, or we make the fatal mistake of thinking that happiness lies only in sensational events instead of in the small trifling incidents of daily life.

There is nothing which we waste more than happiness, and even those who are prudent and economical in other directions, are prodigal in this respect. They pinch and stint to save a penny, but they are often indifferent about the loss of days of happiness. We frequently fail to appreciate our friends until they die or we lose them in some way or other. We rush through a holiday trip and miss half the beauty of the scenery because we are in a hurry or anxious and troubled by worthless trifles. Nearly every old or even middle-aged man who looks back honestly on his life will admit that, however wretched he may be now, opportunities of happiness were given to him which in some way or other he has neglected.

NOTICE, TOWN HARMONY.
I will be at Sheldon's Hardware store on Friday, Dec. 31, and Saturday the balance of January.
C. D. HOWARTH, Treas.

PLUCKY WOMAN HAS BEGUN FIGHT ANEW

Mrs. Jennie Young, After Fire Destroys All Her Goods, Plans for a New Start.

With practically all of her household goods, which she had purchased piece by piece from her wages, destroyed by fire, with her small daughter and aged mother still suffering from the effects of the flames and the smoke and with no one to whom she can turn for help, Mrs. Jennie Young this morning took up her task of earning for those who are depending upon her as their sole means of support. The duty, which was hard before, has been made doubly difficult by the fact that both her mother and daughter need medical aid and that there was not a penny of insurance on her furniture.

During the past three years, since the death of her husband, Mrs. Young has cared for her mother, Mrs. Elmo Pratt, sixty-two years old, and her little daughter, Elsie, who is only four. During those years, while she was working daily at the Janesville Clothing company she still found time to keep her small home at 415 Madison street cheerful and homelike and to provide medical aid for Mrs. Pratt, who has been in poor health and for whom she had almost given up hope several times.

Yesterday afternoon fire, which started from an unknown cause in a clothes closet, destroyed nearly everything she owned. Her mother, while trying to subdue the flames, was burned about the arms and face while her little daughter was overcome by the smoke. Both are very ill today and the burns and excitement may prove fatal for Mrs. Pratt.

Undaunted and uncompromising under this fresh stroke of misfortune, but with a heavy heart, Mrs. Young this morning inspected the charred shell of what had been her home and planned to start the struggle anew.

CRALL FAMILY HAD REUNION CHRISTMAS

Forty Members of Family Gathered at Home of E. Crall in the Town of Center.

(Special to the Gazette.)
Center, Dec. 27.—One of the most enjoyable of family reunions was held on Christmas Day, at the pleasant home of E. Crall and daughter, in the town of Center, when forty relatives assembled to enjoy the festivities of the season. The home had been tastefully decorated for the occasion. At one o'clock the guests partook of an elaborate four course dinner, which was served by the Misses Eva and Edna Schroeder, and Cora and Mary Fisher. Following the dinner the relatives were given a pleasant surprise in the form of a Christmas tree, laden with many beautiful gifts.

YOUNG LADIES CLUB HAD A BANQUET LAST EVENING

Members of "S. O. Club" Enjoyed a Feast at "Andy" Gibson's Restaurant.

Last evening a banquet was given at "Andy" Gibson's cafe in honor of the "S. O." club. A three-course dinner was served after which the banquet guests attended the performance at the theatre. The following young ladies comprised the club: Anna Truitt, Elizabeth Holman, Mary Whalen, Mary Doran, Gertrude Maine, Alta Maine, Arminia Beck, Evelyn Hauers, Elizabeth Green, Grace Lightizer.

CURRENT ITEMS.

Dr. E. N. Sartell will occupy the rooms formerly occupied by Dr. W. D. Merrill over Shorner's Drug Store. Home-made meat pie, a dollop, luncheon tomorrow noon. Tea Shop. Great reduced prices on all furs and holiday goods left over at Archie Reid's.

Janesville Chapter No. 69, O. E. S. will hold a special meeting in Masonic Temple tomorrow Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of installation. M. Chittenden, Sec'y.

Notice is given to the farmers in the vicinity of Janesville that we are now ready to make contracts for corn and cabbage for the season of 1910. Signed, P. H. Hohnadel Jr. Co.

Great reduced prices on all furs and holiday goods left over at Archie Reid's.

Try the ideal restaurant on Franklin street at the West Side Hotel. Lunch, meals and luncheon at all hours. Meals 20 cents. Monte Spout, proprietor.

Tender, juicy, individual meat pie, luncheon tomorrow noon. Tea Shop.

A Communication.

To the Editor Janesville Daily Gazette: In the article published in the issue of the Janesville Daily Gazette under date of Monday Dec. 27th, you state referring to the trouble between Mr. John E. Kennedy and Mr. C. O. Babcock, deceased, that Mr. Kennedy did not know until a few days ago that Mr. Babcock was disinherited with the real estate deal which he had with Mr. Kennedy. I do not believe that you would want to willfully misstate the facts and feeling that you would want to be fair in the matter, I wish to notify you that the deceased Mr. Babcock complained to Mr. Kennedy about this real estate deal immediately after the same was completed and that the writer has not been satisfied with deal at any time either before or since the papers were signed at the time the first deal was made. MARY BABCOCK.

UNCLAIMED LETTERS.

GENT'S—George Houghton, Howard Crumbrugh Frank Dent (2), Mr. Decker, W. E. Dougherty, C. Dulon, R. C. Falk, Howard Fiedling, Franz Hoffmann, James Kerwin, James A. Leary, Paul Lanz, John Lyle, Vernon May, Scott Rottweiler, H. A. Spoor, R. G. Tiffney, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wols, B. P. Whitaker.

LADIES—Miss Ella Albrecht, Mrs. W. C. Byer, Miss Nellie Collins, Mrs. E. M. Peun, Miss Virginia Foltz, Miss Minnie Jones, Miss Hazel Kutz, Mrs. Fay Northrop, Mrs. Elva Poteroff, Mrs. R. Putnam, Mrs. Catherine Ryder, Mrs. G. K. L. Sloan, Mrs. Louise Wadsworth.

PHRMS—The Palmer School of Chiropractic.

POLICE CAPTURED A MADISON THIEF

Man Who Stole Coat From Railroad Station Arrested Last Night by Officer Morrissey.

Patrick Murphy, alias Doyle, whose "pluggish" face and flattened nose hardly warrant the deep regard of Madison police for him, was arrested last night about eight o'clock by Officer Tom Morrissey on suspicion that he was the man who stole an expensive overcoat, gloves, plow and maul from the North-Western Ry. station at Madison last night shortly before six o'clock.

Chief Shamessy was notified this morning of the capture and immediately dispatched Officer Hart to bring the suspect to the Capital City. Hart knew Doyle, or Murphy as he called the prisoner, and greeted him like a long-lost but erring brother. Not being ambitious to emulate Captain Davenport's feat with a runaway prisoner, however, he produced a new and shining pair of wrappings which he induced Murphy to wear, as further evidence of his regard.

It seems that Murphy, after making away with the overcoat and the other articles, walked over to the North-Western Hotel in Madison and traded the coat, which was an expensive one, and the plow and gloves for an older coat and a little ready cash. The money he used in getting to this city and also in buying a few drinks. Murphy's character does not, as he looks for he is surely a "bad man" and made some of the sleepers in the look-up "walk Spanish" last night when they tried to tell him how to behave.

WEDDING CEREMONY AT EIGHT TONIGHT

Miss Grace and Miss Edna Bladen To Be Married To Hugh C. Craig and Ernest Korst At Congregational Church.

This evening at eight, Reverend David Beaton will unite in marriage Miss Grace Bladen to Hugh C. Craig of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and her sister Miss Edna Bladen to Ernest Korst of Sand Point, Idaho. This double wedding will be solemnized at the Congregational church in the presence of relatives and invited guests.

Mrs. L. M. Powell of Minneapolis, will be matron of honor for Miss Grace Bladen and Miss Ethel Dutton of Denver, and Miss Margaret MacGregor of this city will act as her bridesmaid. Miss Helen MacArthur of La Crosse, will serve as maid of honor for Miss Edna Bladen and Miss Hazel Barnes of Kalamazoo, Mich., and Miss Mabel Charlton of this city as bridesmaids. Miss Janice Coulson of Minneapolis and Miss Beadie Korst of this city will be the ring bearers for the two brides.

Vernum Parish, of Chicago will serve Mr. Craig as best man while Laurence Doty of Chicago, will act in a like capacity for Mr. Korst. The ushers will be Allen K. Ford of Minneapolis, Fred Ehringer of Janesville, Malcolm Jeffrie, Victor Anderson and Philip Korst of this city and John Buranek of Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Immediately following the ceremony at the church a reception will be held at the home of the brides parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Bladen on South Main street for the two happy couples leaving for their wedding trips on late trains tonight. Rose and southern affairs are the decorations used at the bride's home for decorations and Knott and Hatch string orchestra will furnish the music.

It Will Be Held on December 29, to Elect Officers for the Coming Year.

The annual meeting of the Mississippi Golf club will be held at Valentin's school, Jackson block, Wednesday, Dec. 29, 1909, at 7:30 p. m., for the purpose of electing officers and directors for the ensuing year and for such other business as may come before such meeting.

Dated Dec. 22, 1909.

C. H. GAGE, Secretary.

IS MAKING A RECORD AS CRACK SALESMAN

Charles H. Reynolds Will Be One Of 28 To Receive $50 Prizes From Burroughs Adding Machine Co. Charles H. Reynolds, who returned to Rockford yesterday after a brief holiday visit in Janesville will be one of 28 out of the 400 salesmen for the Burroughs Adding Machine Co. to be enrolled in the first, or senior class, on their records for the past three months, and to each member of this class a cash prize of $50 in gold will be awarded. Both in Milwaukee and the West Virginia territory Mr. Reynolds made records which have not been equaled by his successors and he is one of the eight or ten top-notchers in the employ of the concern. He expects to attend the convention in Detroit next month.

A PLEASANT GATHERING ON CHRISTMAS DAY OF FRIENDS

On Christmas Day a party of twenty, which included the family of George H. Phillips were entertained at the home of Mr. Phillips on North Main street. The party was composed of R. E. Horne and family of three of Evansville, Wendell Phillips and family of three children, Chas. Horne of the town of Janesville, R. L. Horne and Miss Emma Horne of Janesville, and Harry DeForest and wife of Rockford. Another pleasant gathering was held on the same day at the home of Mr. Raynor, 1529 Elizabeth street, when the entire family of Mr. and Mrs. Raynor returned home for Christmas dinner.

Patriarch's Attention.

There will be a special meeting of Rock River Encampment No. 3, Wednesday evening, December 29th. Patriarch and Golden Rule degrees will be conferred upon six candidates. Supper will be served. G. H. Webster.

LA PRAIRIE

La Prairie, Dec. 27.—The school entertainment given by Miss Hatfield Greenleaf last Thursday evening, was enjoyed by an audience of sixty-five.

FOR SALE—Wood, $5.00 per cord, blocked. New phone 761.

PERSONAL MENTION.

William and Herman Pridelip spent Christmas Day and Sunday at their home in Baraboo.

Mr. and Mrs. William D. Brown of Mineral Point are Janesville visitors. H. J. Quimman of Beloit was in the city last evening.

R. H. Merrill, S. H. Slaymaker, and E. S. McDonald of Beloit were visitors here last night.

L. O. Griffith is here from Monroe Wallace Ingalls of Racine, Steve Summers of Monroe, and R. E. Ventimeter of Burlington were visitors in the city last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Gallagher of Delta, Colo., were in the city last evening.

Among the Beloit visitors in this city yesterday were M. L. Buckley and N. O. Knudsen.

Miss Hazel Smith of Chicago has returned home after spending the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Whilden of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Roskile of Montello, Wis., were visitors in this city yesterday.

Dr. E. P. Steinhil of Johnston's Creek, Wis., was in Janesville on professional business last night.

S. C. Humphrey and Robert W. Merrill of Elkerton were here on business yesterday.

PITIFUL PLEA FROM COOK CO. HOSPITAL

Aged Mother Asks Police To See Why Her Son Does Not Relieve Her Distress.

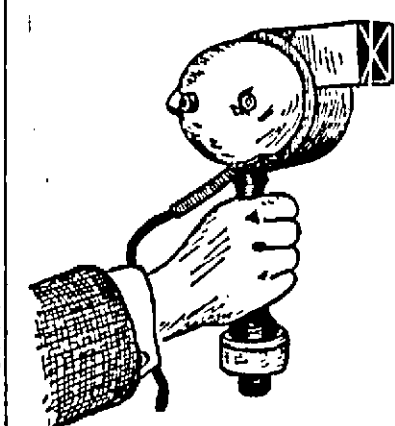

"I have a son living in Janesville and I have not heard from him or seen him in over four months. I wish you would kindly see why he does not answer my letters. His name is Daniel O'Connell. I am in the Cook County Hospital and I am very sick. I am very old and I would like to have him look after me for I may not live long."

Mrs. Johanna O'Connell, old, penniless and deserted by her children wrote the above letter to Chief of Police Appleby from her bed in ward number thirty-six in the Cook County hospital. Once before she sent almost the same request which resulted in the chief finding her son and making him promise to act the part of a true son. O'Connell, who is big and strong, asserted that he had, that he had sent his mother $50 and that in the future she would not want. Just how far he carried out his intentions may be seen. This morning he asserted that he had written to her last Friday.

HAIR DRIED BY ELECTRICITY

Small Inclosed Fan, Held by Handle in End of Which is Switch to Regulate Current.

And now we have the electric hair drier which is almost a blessing in view of the ease and quickness with which a one-time tedious operation may be performed, says Popular Electricity. No need now to sit in the sun for an hour combing and brushing.

Electric Hair Drier.

This may be a pleasant diversion at times, but then again one may be in a hurry, and nothing dries more slowly than the hair when one has no time to waste.

An electric drier is used to drive a current of heated air through the hair. It consists of a small inclosed handle in the lower end of which is a snapswitch for turning on and off the electric current. As the fan revolves it draws air in through holes in the casing and throws out a powerful blast from the nozzle-like opening. The air before it leaves the casing is also heated by a small heating coil on the order of the heating units of electric flat irons.

A sketch of one of these fans is shown. The blower case is made of an aluminum casing—light and very neat in appearance. The motor is a high grade machine adapted to operate on either alternating or direct current.

ELECTRIC CLOCK IS UNIQUE

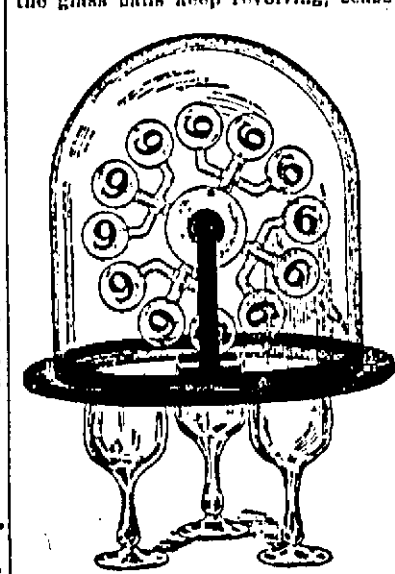

One Without Hands on Exhibition in Chicago—Has 5,485 Colored Globes and Mile of Wire.

An electric clock without hands is exhibited in Chicago. Its pendulum weighs more than 3,000 pounds. It contains 5,485 colored bulbs and over a mile of wire. The minutes are indicated by 60 series of lights, each series containing 32 globe covered bulbs, radiating from an ornamental center piece to the outer edge of the dial. Shorter rows of different colored lights indicate the hour, and these change their position 12 times during each 60 minutes, or once every five minutes. The seconds are shown by 60 lights placed at equal distances around the extreme outer edge of the face. The hour figures are three feet high, outlined in colored lights. Each second the illumination in the outer circle of light moves forward one bulb, and when the dial has been entirely circled, the lights indicating the minute also advance, and the hour hand, formed by lights, makes its slow journey at five-minute intervals.

MOTION MACHINE IS NOVELTY

Perpetual Motion Machine Displayed in Store Window Attracts Public's Attention.

Thousands of people have watched this presumed perpetual motion machine whirl in store windows where it has been displayed as a means of drawing attention, but none of them so far have guessed what makes it go. Nothing like a wire, magnet or motor can be found anywhere about it, yet the glass balls keep revolving, cease-

Motion Machine Attracts Public.

lessly, day and night. To prove perfect insulation from outside forces the glass balls revolve on a glass axle under a glass bell, on a glass plate, supported by wire glasses, but the inventor is an electrician.

Extending the Wireless.

Consul Lester Maynard of Vladivostok, advises that the Russian government has decided to send an official of the telegraph department to the United States for the purpose of making arrangements with some American wireless company so that communication may be established between the United States and the wireless station to be built at Kamchatka, the Siberian peninsula extending into the Bering sea and opposite Alaska.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

NASH

Sweet Potatoes.
3 lbs. Old Style Hominy 10c.
Green Scotch Peas 5c lb.
Dry Lima Beans 8c lb.
Fancy Whole Rice 5c lb.
Old Style Steel Cut Oatmeal 5c.
3 Borden's Eagle Milk 25c.
Van Camp's Milk 5c and 10c.
Swansdown Pastry Flour 25c.
Rye Flour 25c sack.
Buckwheat Season.
Doty's or Blodgett's Buckwheat 30c.
3 None Such Mince Meat 25c.
2 lbs. Club House Mince Meat 25c.

Jersey Butterine 20c.
Holstein Butterine 22c lb.
2 lbs. 20 M. T. Borax 25c.
Sopade, Sapollo, Salome.
6 lbs. Shelled Peppering Corn 25c.
3 qts. New Hickory Nuts 25c.
Success Patent Flour $1.45.
Corner Stone Flour $1.50.
Gold Medal Flour $1.50.
Marvel Flour $1.55.

3 lbs. Richelieu Raisins 25c.
4 lbs. Seedless Raisins 25c.
Fort Dearborn Currants 10c.
3 qts. Fancy Cranberries 25c.
Best 50c Tea on Earth.
Best 25c Coffee on Earth.
3 lbs. Hummer 20c Coffee 50c.
3 pkgs. Fig Newtons 25c.
Long Horn Cream Cheese 20c lb.

Brick and Limburger 20c lb.
3 Palm Olive Soap 25c.
4 Mountain Sweet Corn 25c.
4 cans Early June Peas 25c.
2 cans Dinner Bell Salmon 25c.
3 cans Golf Pumpkin 25c.
Home Baking.

6 Swift's Pride Soap 25c.
8 Santa Claus Soap 25c.
8 Lenox Soap 25c.
6 Old Country Soap 25c.
Shell Oyster Crackers 10c.
Fresh Salted Peanuts 12c lb.
After Dinner Mints 10c and 25c.
Bismarck Sauerkraut 8c qt.
3 Old Dutch Cleaners 25c.
3 cans Louis Lye 25c.
Farm House Peas 10c.
2-lb. Pail Cottoleone 30c.
4-lb. Pail Cottoleone 80c.
Finest Italian Olive Oil.
3 Toasted Corn Flakes 25c.
3 Cream of Wheat 25c.
Calumet Baking Powder 15c.
Walter Baker's Chocolate 30c lb.

7 lbs. Rolled Avena Oatmeal, the highest grade made, 25c.
The Store of Quality and Price.

GROCERIES AND MEATS.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

1910.

We begin another year, but there is no great demand to get excited about it.

There will be the same old snow to shovel off between now and the middle of March.

Some coal and gas bills, and the bread girl will do the same amount of kicking. If the children had the whooping-cough last year they will have the measles this, so don't get too bilious.

The mother-in-law is a year older than she was last New Year's Day, but we are you, and she may live as long as you do.

Don't look for any aunts and uncles to die and leave you a legacy. All the miracles occur on odd years, and this is an even one.

The price of butter and eggs isn't going to come down just because a new year has slipped over the fence. You've got to come down with the dough.

Taxes will be no lower. On the contrary, they are going to soak you worse than ever. They'll claim that it's worth more for you to live in 1910.

Same Valentine's—same April Fool—same groundhog—same old Fourth of July.

Same grocery and butcher bills—same sermons about the heathen in Africa—same fellows wanting the same wages. Same autos killing off the population—same American girl marrying a fool count—same divers in high life. Just sit tight and let 'er rip. Nothing going to hurt you.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

After Xmas Fur Sale

People who have waited until after Christmas to buy furs of course cannot expect as complete assortments as we had before Christmas, but still our present assortment will compare favorably with the assortments shown by most merchants at the height of the season. For instance: of Jap Mink we show about a half dozen sets and a good sprinkling of scarfs and throws. Of River Mink in sets and separate pieces we have a splendid assortment. Kolin sables in choice sets and scarfs. In colored furs we show fox, opossum, squirrel, mink, etc. Of black we show the lynx, fox, wolf, martin, French hare, dyed opossum, etc.

The regular prices of these furs range $1.50 to $135.00. We are anxious to turn them into money and to do so we are satisfied if we get cost for them now.

At this writing we have just 14 Fur Coats and Jackets left in near seal, black and brown pony and river mink. If you find the garment that suits you we will make the price so attractive that you cannot pass it by.

WOMEN'S CLOTH CLOAKS

We show a most complete assortment in black, grays and green, reds, brown, coffee, wisteria. Prices cut to the quick. First come first served.

CHILDREN'S CLOAKS

A good line of sizes in all the wanted colors. If you need cloaks for the children now is the time to buy them. Price is the lever that will move them. The prices are within the reach of all. To buy now is like finding several dollars in the road.

ONE PIECE DRESSES

Are popular and there is practically no difference between the styles we show and those shown by the leading manufacturers for spring selling. If you need a new dress it will surely pay you to buy it now. Excellent materials and styles in black and a full range of colors. Exclusive styles that will not be common.

IF YOU WANT FURS OR READY-TO-WEAR GARMENTS, DON'T PUT IT OFF. THE LONGER YOU WAIT THE SMALLER THE ASSORTMENT. THE PRICES ARE ALL IN YOUR FAVOR.

ORDER EXTRA COPIES

OF THE

CHRONOLOGICAL EDITION

Not Later Than Wednesday at 6 P. M.

The presses start on this edition Wednesday evening and all orders for extra copies must be received by that time.

Last year, though hundreds of extra copies were printed, the demand for them was several hundred greater than the supply.

Many people save this Chronological Edition each year as a history of all local happenings. Hundreds of copies are sent away to friends and business firms as an edition representative of the city.

It is the only piece of civic literature that Janesville has and as such there is a great demand.

EXTRA COPIES ARE 3c

Or Mailed From This Office at 5c Per Copy

ORDER NOW

A School Is No Stronger Than Its Instructors

Yet---Good Workmen Must Have Good Tools

We Want You to See Our Equipment

Go through Our Banking Department and let us show you how we handle the accounts of our depositors and the way we conduct the exchange work between our Janesville bank and the banks in our other schools. Here you will see just how our Adding Machine is used in the regular bank work and you will view banking as it is carried on in any up-to-date banking house. You will see the Adding machine at work and understand just why and how it is used.

(By the way, one our Beloit boys goes to work for a large banking concern in La Crosse, Wisconsin, on January 3, 1910.)

Our Wholesale Offices

Are equipped with some of the latest "man's size" sets of books. Our advanced students carry on a wholesale business with the students in our other schools, making shipments by freight and express, and advertising and selling their products by mail.

Our Model Office

Gives our students the practice that enables them to do "a day's work in a day" in any business office.

If you haven't met our Teachers, seen our Equipment and investigated our Methods---you ought to

Our Inter-Communication System of business practice makes us able to give our pupils more real work in actual office training than can be gotten otherwise. Our boys and girls perform the business tasks that are found in regular office work. Transactions through the mails as they occur in every day business are made between our students and the students of our other schools. Our pupils do the thing they are taught and see the why and the how of it.

Typewriters

of four standard makes are used by our Shorthand students. These machines are all the visible models, and we have enough to give each pupil all the time possible in practice.

Filing, Duplicate Letter Work, Etc., is taught after our stenographic students finish the advanced dictation work. Then they are tried out in our wholesale offices and tested for speed and accuracy and general efficiency in office work by our manager.

We cannot describe our systems and methods as fully in this paper as we would like to do. Call and get the whole story.

Our Model Office

Is in charge of MR. SUMMERS,
a certified Public Accountant

The New Janesville Business College

OFFICE OPEN DAY AND EVENING. CALL, PHONE OR WRITE

Both Phones, Carle Block

(New Term Begins January 3, 1910)

W. H. WILLIAMSON, Mgr.

MRS. FORD'S TRIAL POSTPONED.

Defendant in Blackmail Case Sustains Severe Fall on Sidewalk.

Chillicothe, Dec. 28.—Mrs. Jeanette Stewart-Ford, the woman who is charged with blackmail in connection with the embezzlement of $613,000 from the local office of the Big Four railroad, will not be brought to trial until January 10.

The case was called in the criminal court, but Mrs. Ford's attorneys asked for a continuance on the ground that their client had sustained a severe fall on the frozen pavement and was unable to be present.

CASHIER AND $20,000 MISSING.

George A. Capron of U. S. Express Company Suspected.

Chicago, Dec. 28.—A man said to amount to $20,000 and George A. Capron, cashier for the United States Express Company at its Englewood office, disappeared Christmas eve.

The cash had been in the Englewood office all day and officials of the express company connect its disappearance with that of the cashier. Detectives of the company all over the country are working in coöperation to find Capron.

Honey's Damage Suit Filed.

New York, Dec. 28.—The formal complaint in the damage suit of Francis J. Honey of San Francisco against William H. Crocker, California millionaire, for $250,000 on an allegation of libel, was filed here. Honey bases his action on an open letter, bearing Crocker's name, which appeared in a New York newspaper in which Crocker defended his action in first supporting Honey in the San Francisco graft prosecutions and later withdrawing his support.

Mine Gas Explodes; Two Dead.

Centralia, Ill., Dec. 28.—By an explosion of gas caused by a windy spot in a mine two miles south of here, a Russian shot-driller and a companion were killed. It is feared that two other shot-drillers are dead.

Rushing Engines to Move Freight.

Bloomington, Ill., Dec. 28.—In order to turn out more locomotives to break the freight blockade the machinery department of the Chicago & Alton railroad shops here commenced a 12-hour workday.

Masons in Four-Day Reunion.

Athens, Ga., Dec. 28.—Scottish Rite Masons of the southern jurisdiction of the United States met in reunion at the Masonic Temple here. The convocation will last four days.

No Use in Trying to Please All.

"You can't do nuffin' with some folks," said Uncle Eben. "If you does you level best to make 'em have a good time, dey simply turns up deir noses an' thinks you is tryin' to show off."

Life's Sorrows.

Rob (to Hensley)—It seems rather strange, Hensley, that when I didn't want to kiss you you didn't mind, but now that you are old enough to make me want to, you won't let me.—Life.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

MAGNET is a leading lady insisting on having the prettiest women she could find in her company.

You can't, can you?

But if you won't call it an irreverent comparison I'll tell you of a very similar situation that we often see, and that is a plain bride-to-be asking her very prettiest girl friends to act as bridesmaids.

Most girls do that, and don't it strange?

A bride is seldom at her best. She is apt to be nervous, almost sure to be tired, and she usually dresses in dead white, which is about the most unbecoming thing anyone can wear.

The bridesmaids, on the other hand, have probably had nothing special to dress them, are more likely to be pleasantly excited than nervous, and usually wear some of the exquisite pale shades that make the plain girl pretty and the pretty girl a ravishing beauty.

In Japan, where the parents make the marriages and the bride-price and groom-price, often do not even see pictures of each other until the great day when it is time for the wedding, the parents of the bride bring her into the room where the bridegroom is waiting for her, accompanied by the homeliest girl in the household, and as only a maid-servant as can be found. So to the young man the girl he is about to marry is always very beautiful.

I fancy the Japanese will be surprised to know that in this country we do just the opposite by inviting our prettiest friends to come and try to outshine us.

It may be because our women depend on something besides beauty to fascinate their husbands.

I wonder.

Did you ever try to "put someone else in your place" test on yourself?

When you are on the eve of doing anything about the advisability of which you feel some doubt, there is no better way to test that advisability than to try to picture, not what other people would think if you were to do the thing, but what you would think if some friend of yours were to do it.

Often you will be fairly surprised at the feeling of detestation that comes over you at the picture you invoke, and will need no further warning.

Why not try it the next time you start to do or say something you are not absolutely sure is going to look or sound well.

There are two of the most beautiful words in the English language that it seems to me we do not hear spoken half enough.

And these are "father" and "mother."

Surely these terms are infinitely more pleasant and dignified than "mamma" and "papa," or "ma" and "pa," or any other way of addressing our parents that we have, and yet you hear "mother" and "father" in one home to ten where you hear some other title employed.

Strangely enough, too, you hear "father" about one half as often as you do "mother."

In several homes where I go the children speak of "papa" and "mother" or even "ma" and "mother."

Anyone will admit it is a very simple thing to teach your children to call you by these dignified and beautiful names.

Why not begin today and do it?

Ruth Cameron

PERSONAL MENTION.

Miss Della Dearborn of Indianapolis, Ind., is here visiting friends during the holiday season.

Mr. C. S. Dearborn, wholesale druggist in Indianapolis, Ind., with his wife spent Sunday with friends in Janesville.

A. J. Huobel is in Chicago today.

William McIntosh of Edgerton was a Janesville visitor Friday.

C. W. Collier of Clinton spent yesterday in the city.

John Collins of Milwaukee visited in the city Monday.

Physician Director Wheeler of the Y. M. C. A. returned yesterday from Milwaukee, having spent Christmas Day in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hanson of St. Louis are the guests of friends in the city for the holidays.

Philip L. Capron is here for a visit with his mother.

George Bailey of Milwaukee was in the city yesterday.

Mrs. James Hall of Chicago, spent yesterday in the city.

Dr. C. G. Dwight has returned from a visit to Milwaukee.

Miss Amelia Smith of Mineral Point visited in the city yesterday.

Ray Laddin has returned to Chicago after spending Christmas with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Rogers of Hulliver, Canada, are visiting in the city.

Elmer Bullard of Evansville transferred business in the city yesterday.

Mrs. W. H. Greenman of Hollet visited friends in the city yesterday.

C. E. Nelson of Burlington was a Janesville visitor Monday.

W. W. Kilday of New London was in the city on business yesterday.

W. C. Craig of Milwaukee transferred business in the city yesterday.

Tailor Suits of Cloth.

This frock, sketched recently at a fashionable New York shop is a smart walking suit in rayon cloth. There is individuality in this frock—the lines are graceful and becoming. The front of the coat continues for some distance below the side bodies—giving a graceful bottom line—the back extends even farther, ending on a line several inches below the bottom of the points. Half-way up the front and back panels and on the bottom of the side is introduced a wide band of silk embroidery in self-tone, picked out with gold. This is used also for the collar and white cuffs. Crochet buttons and loops close the front.

FAMILY LIVE IN PRIVATE CAR.

Erle Official Solves Scarlet Fever Isolation Problem.

New York, Dec. 28.—William Johnson Harahan, first vice-president of the Erie railroad, has solved a scarlet fever isolation problem in a novel manner.

He has installed Mrs. Harahan and ten of their eleven children, with a force of servants, in his private car on a siding near the Walnut street station in Montclair, N. J. This palatial hotel on wheels will remain their home for the next six weeks. In the meantime Mr. Harahan, with the family physician, nurses and a few servants, will watch at his home beside his son John, aged three years, who was stricken with scarlet fever.

Brown Discusses Pay Raise.

New York, Dec. 28.—Referring to the likelihood of the Eastern railroad employees demanding an increase in wages President William C. Brown of the New York Central is quoted as saying: "So far as I am able to learn there is no disposition on the part of the railroads to deal arbitrarily or unreasonably with their employees. The whole matter hinges on the one question as to whether there has been since the last increase in wages a material increase in the cost of living."

Two Hunters Found Dead.

Wildwood, N. J., Dec. 28.—The bodies of two well-dressed hunters, identified by gunners' licenses in their pockets as Julius W. Ober of Camden, N. J., and J. W. McFarland of Wildwood Crest, were found on the banks of Swanton's channel.

Lover's Shot Gains No Sympathy.

Terre Haute, Ind., Dec. 28.—Frank Eldredge shot himself in front of the house of Miss Mahard, who rejected him, and is dying. The girl's family left him lying in the snow for an hour, waiting for his own relatives to come to his aid.

Immense Leaves of Inaj Palm.

The biggest leaves in the world are those of the Inaj palm, which grows on the banks of the Amazon. They reach a length of 30 to 50 feet, and are from 10 to 12 feet in breadth.

Save money—read advertisements.

PLAN TO PROBE INTO CORNER

ROCK ISLAND STOCKS SOAR THIRTY-ONE POINTS IN RECORD TIME.

DECLINES JUST AS QUICKLY

New York Stock Exchange Appoints Inquiry Committee to Run Down Men Who Engineered Deal—Luncheoners Are Caught Napping.

New York, Dec. 28.—The governors of the stock exchange met and portended plans for a rigorous investigation of the sensational movements in Rock Island common shares—a movement which is somewhat shrouded in mystery as to its direct cause.

The governors appointed as a special committee of inquiry began their labors at once to run down the men who "cornered" Rock Island, and gave Wall Street a brief chill.

Stock Jumps Thirty-One Points.

At the opening of the market Rock Island common, which had closed Friday at 40½, started at 50½, and in one string of transactions amounting to 14,800 shares ran up to 80. A minute later it touched 81, at which price 2,000 shares changed hands. It then fell back, as rapidly as it had risen, to 50. The whole affair was over in less than half an hour.

The corner in the stock, for it practically amounted to such and the first since the famous Northern Pacific episode, came as a complete surprise and caused a sharp reaction in the rest of the market, which had opened generally higher. However, most of the losses were soon recovered.

Reasons Are Varied.

There were all sorts of reasons given to account for the rise, but the one which was generally accepted as true was to the effect that a group of Londoners had been caught napping and $1,000,000 taken away from them to line the pockets of the Rock Island insiders. Last week, it seems, the Rock Island crowd, when the stock was at 46, bought calls on 100,000 shares good until March, which were said to have been put out by English speculators. Following the usual custom, the sellers bought in 50,000 shares of the stock, forcing the price up to above 50, and leaving the remaining 50,000 shares open until the price had touched 55. There was a holiday on the London exchange, and this, it is said, was taken advantage of to squeeze the Britishers. Market buying orders were put in before the opening, and when the stock reached 55 the orders from London for the 50,000 shares were executed. It was this buying which forced the price to 81. The average price paid for the 50,000 shares was something above 75, and the loss on the transaction to the sellers of the calls about $1,000,000.

This report was practically confirmed by the head of one of the large international banking houses.

Cultivate Quiet Mind.

Quiet minds cannot be perplexed or frightened, but go on in fortune or misfortune at their own private pace, like a clock during a thunderstorm.—R. L. Stevenson.

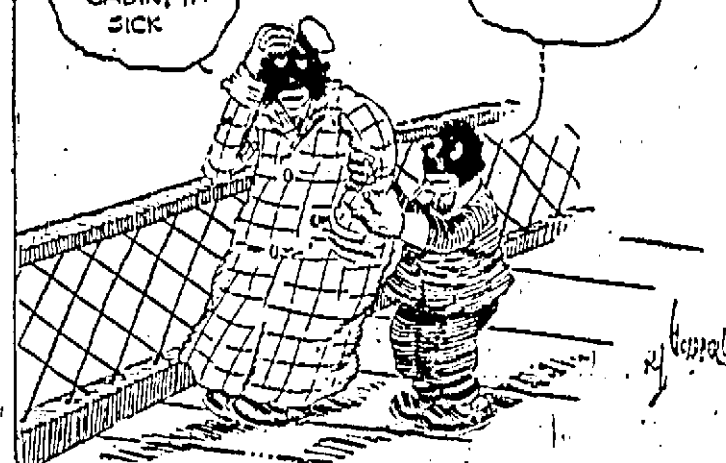

Read Advertisements—Save money.

FOOLISH, FOOLISH, QUESTIONS.

BOOKLOVERS' CONTEST

TAKE ME TO MY CABIN, I'M SICK

ALL RIGHT, UNCLE TOM

WHAT BOOK DOES THIS DOPE REPRESENT?

SEND IN AT ONCE FOR OUR GREAT CONTEST CATALOGUE—IT CONTAINS THE NAME AND AUTHOR OF EVERY BOOK EVER PUBLISHED, INCLUDING "LETITIA, THE BEAUTIFUL CHAMBERMAID" BY ELIAS JUNK, "THE BOILED ONION" BY J. WINCEY KORTCHERSHIRE, AND "A BUCKET OF SUDS" BY THEODORE BEERS. PRICE: IF YOU CAN'T PAY IN REAL MONEY, WE WILL ACCEPT OLD BOTTLES, COLLAR BUTTONS, CASH OPENERS, UNDERWEAR ETC.

woman is no greater than her power to charm. The modern woman neglects nothing that adds to her attractiveness. Our coiffures and arrangements in hair-dressing are skillfully done.

Randall Beauty Parlors

SECOND FLOOR OF THE JACK MAN BLOCK. HIGH GRADE HAIR GOODS. Telephone Black 890.

BELOIT RIVERVIEW SANITARIUM

SPECIALISTS

Diseases of Digestion

INCLUDING

Stomach, Liver and Bowel Disorders

Have YOU any trouble with your stomach or bowels? This being true, if you will give us the opportunity through a personal interview with our physician we will positively demonstrate to you that we can cure you. This will be without cost to you and will place you under no obligation whatever. Presuming you appreciate the value of your health you will immediately take advantage of this opportunity to regain it. RESULTS are quickly obtained and the expense is MODERATE. Surroundings home-like. Correspondence invited. BELOIT-WIS. 1149 FOURTH ST.

BURNS BRUISES BLISTERS

as well as all manner of injuries, sores, and inflammation of the skin are promptly relieved and quickly healed with

Sabine's Curative Oil

Phillips Drug Co., Warren, Pa. For sale at 25c a bottle by H. E. RANOUS & CO.

Cure That Cold

Sore Throat and Cough

BRONCHINE

is a sure cure for all bronchial troubles. 25c a bottle.

J. P. BAKER DRUGGIST

Graduate Nurses

When in need of a Graduate Nurse for city or country cases, phone us. 16 graduate nurses registered here.

McQUE & BUSS Both phones.

Boston Ferns

For Home Decoration

Large Potted Boston Ferns, very desirable for the home. Some of these ferns have a spread of over 2 feet across. Priced special at 50c each. Christmas novelties in greens, at moderate prices.

DOWNS FLORAL CO.

Milton and Prospect Aves. We make prompt and accurate deliveries. BOTH PHONES Street car passes our door.

HEROISM OF THE HOME REWARDED—TYPICAL NICARAGUAN HOME

Managua, Dec. 22.—There is great rejoicing in every humble hut in Nicaragua today over the abdication of President Zelaya and the victory of Estrada. Stories of suffering, starvation and heroism have been coming from the heart of the rebel's homes for weeks. Thousands of women and children in the interior, left alone to fight their battle with poverty while husbands and sons faced the bullets in desperate straits. Coffee plantations have been destroyed, the woods filled with brutal hordes, fields have been pillaged and food confiscated by the armies. The real secret of the triumph of the revolutionists lies in the courage, self-sacrifice and determination of the Indians, Creoles and half-breeds who have forced Zelaya to yield.

FALLS DEAD FROM STARVATION.

Aged Man Dies As Food Is Placed Before Him.

New York, Dec. 28.—As Samuel Leberman was going over his accounts at the desk in his luncheon room he glanced up to see a tall and fat old man with white beard and hair looking at him appealingly. He asked what was wanted. The visitor, who looked as if he might be 80, asked if he could have some coffee and bread, as he had not eaten in several days.

Leberman motioned him to a table and told a waiter to bring some hot chicken soup and coffee. The old man muttered his thanks and, as the waiter put the soup before him, uttered a cry, threw up his arms and fell backward on the floor. A physician was summoned and said the man was dead of starvation.

Read Advertisements—Save money.

Music Teachers of Kansas.

Wichita, Kan., Dec. 28.—The Kansas State Music Teachers' association, which was organized only a year ago, is holding a most enthusiastic convention here, about 50 of the leading musicians of the state being on the program. Tomorrow afternoon there will be a concert for which the work has been made up entirely of the work of Kansas composers. Charles Davis Carter of Wichita is president of the association.

Fifty Colleges Vote for Football.

New York, Dec. 28.—Fifty colleges out of approximately eighty-eight in the Intercollegiate Athletic association have voted for the retention of the American football game with the elimination of mass plays and other dangerous plays. This was made known by the executive committee of the association.

The Marvel Bread Kneader will save you ten days hard work each year.

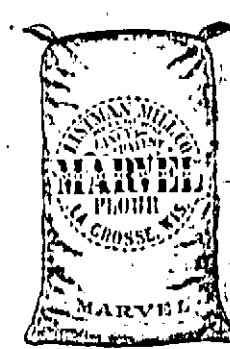

If you bake three times a week as many women do, this wonderful machine will give you every year a vacation of ten days of ten hours each. This Bread Kneader mixes and thoroughly kneads the dough in three to five minutes; it saves you at least forty minutes every time you bake—two hours a week—one hundred and four hours in a year. It does away with all the hard work and makes your bread lighter, better and of finer texture than when kneaded by hand. And it does all this without the necessity of once touching the dough with your hands until it is ready to be shaped into loaves—no disagreeable stickiness, no muss, no bother.

If you use Marvel Flour you can obtain this

Bread Kneader Free

Our free Bread Kneader offer is a part of our unique system of advertising. Instead of spending hundreds of thousands of dollars in newspapers, magazines, on bill boards and in street cars, as some mills do, we have devised a method of advertising that secures new customers and builds trade for us at less cost than these other methods. This system saves us money in less cost of securing new trade and thus makes it possible for us to give you better flour for the price.

And, incidentally, this plan enables us to give most of our advertising money to the consumers instead of paying it to the magazine and newspaper owners and the proprietors of bill boards and street car advertising.

In every sack of Marvel Flour is a leaflet telling about this plan and giving full information regarding the Marvel Bread Kneader, Cake Maker and Churn.

You can find no better Flour than Marvel nor any which costs less per loaf.

Order a sack today.

Save the coupons and get a Marvel Bread Kneader FREE.

BENNISON & LANE DISTRIBUTORS.

The Island of Regeneration

By Cyrus Townsend Brady

The man shook her off and turned away. The very innocence which had prevented his understanding at first the charge made it the more hideous when comprehension came. He had loved this woman with a love that passed the love of man, for there had not entered into his mind the faintest possibility that she could ever be or ever have been other than what she seemed, a daughter of the gods in truth, in sweetness and in purity. And this strange man had come from out the world and proclaimed her his mistress, his cast-off, abandoned mistress. Once the dew was given he found more hideous depths of infamy in that word than would have appeared had he been a wiser and more experienced vision. Indeed, so clear and pure was the soul of this woman that a man of the world would have known instantly that there was an explanation, which the child of nature could not see forthcoming. He wanted to be away from her and alone, and he turned as if to plunge into the depths of the forest, but with gentle force she restrained him.

"You are a man, with a man's power and a man's soul and a man's heart, you cannot fly now. You must stay and face the problem. The question must be pursued to the bitter end. My life and your life depends upon what we do now, perhaps his life, too."

"O, God," cried the man, recurring again to that bitter thought, "I had him in my hands and spared him!"

"But you spared him for my sake," said the woman, "think of that."

"For your sake," declared the man, pointedly, "I would and should have killed him."

"Thou shalt not kill!" said the woman, softly.

"An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth," returned the man. "He and you between you slew my heart. His death would be no murder, but retribution."

"But it was in part my fault," returned the woman, bravely making her confession.

"I will never believe it. It cannot be."

"And yet it was, but you shall have the whole wretched story to-day, and you shall judge. This much I will say, that though all that he said was true, yet I hold myself blameless and innocent. The world judges me harshly, and it may be that you will find its judgment just. Yet I do not hold myself as on trial at this moment, but you."

"I do not understand."

"There are many things that you do not understand, my friend."

"I would that I had been left in ignorance."

"Nay, that is not a man's wish, but a child's."

"Of one thing I am certain."

"And what is that?"

"That I should have killed him!"

"Nay," said the woman again, "that is not a child's wish, but a brute's."

"You said yourself," he flashed at her, "that there were some things a woman could not forgive, and this is one—that a man puts in the same class."

The woman sighed. There occurred to her at the moment no answer which was adequate to the stark realism of this fact. The conversation had reached an impasse beyond which it could not progress without the full and complete explanation which now there was neither time nor opportunity to give, for the boat from the man-of-war was approaching the shore. The woman stopped resolutely down the strand to meet it, and the man, after a slight hesitation, followed her.

So soon as the boat's keel grated on the bottom in the shallow water a middle-aged officer rose from the stern sheets and stepped ashore followed by a younger companion in the uniform of a sergeant of marines. A little squad of privates in the bows landed and fell in line with martial alertness and precision. The officer in charge, who wore the white tropical uniform of a lieutenant commander, now faced the people on the island who had instinctively divided into two groups, one on either side of him. To the right stood the man and behind him the woman, to the left Langford, back of him his crew. It was to the latter that the officer first addressed himself.

"Sir," he began, "I am the executive officer of the United States cruiser Cheyenne, detached on special service. We raised this island this morning, ran it down, circled it, saw the yacht yonder—"

"It is my yacht, sir, the Southern Cross," answered the other. "My name is Langford."

"Glad to meet you, Mr. Langford. The lieutenant commander touched his cap as he spoke. Langford lifted his, and the two shook hands.

"We saw," continued the lieutenant commander, "what appeared to be some sort of a frigate with the natives, and fired a gun to attract attention, and Capt. Ashby sent this boat party ashore under my charge to do whatever was necessary. Perhaps you can explain how you came to be embroiled with the natives."

"Sir," said the woman. And the fact that she addressed him in his own language, and with the cultured accents of the well-bred and the well-educated, caused the officer to start violently—"the island is mine."

"Mr. Whitaker turned and looked deliberately at her, his surprise only equaled by his admiration. The truth that she wore was a rough garment, and shapeliness, but few vestments were better calculated to set off her exquisite proportions. The grace and beauty of her figure, the nobility and intelligence of her face took added luster from the contrast of the utterly simple, natural and primitive. Whitaker's glance fell upon a well-nigh perfect woman. The constraining influence of civilization had been so long absent that nature had time and opportunity to reassert its claim. She was tall, exquisitely modeled. Her bare arms might have supplied those belonging from the Venus of Milo; her limbs, which the short tunic to her knees left exposed, were perfect in their symmetry and strength; her feet were such as those to which ancient Greece had bowed; her hands were shapely, graceful, yet strong; her dark eyes looked at him fearfully; her dark hair rose like a somber, cloudy crown above her brow. The fierce sun, the open air, the wild wind had not materially altered the clear, slightly olive pallor of her face. The woman had been beautiful before. Now that nature had had free sway, she was nobly lovely. She had stood a little in the rear of the man at first and the lieutenant commander had not particularly observed her. When she spoke, she stepped into the open. He stared and stared amazed.

Indeed, the direct intensity of his glance added a sudden new perception to the woman's faculties and for the first time in years she realized that she was standing before her fellows half naked. In one swift moment convention leaped across the mingling years and caught her in its arm. The red flashed into her cheek; beneath her ruder vest her bosom rose and fell. Her instinct for the moment was to fly. She wished that she had put on those treasured garments which she had kept for a scene like this in that cave all those years. It was too late now. She summoned her courage, and realizing that dignity, after all, is not made of clothes or conventions, once more addressed him.

"Sir," she said, "my name is Katharine Brenton. I am not, as you might well think, a savage, but a castaway."

"I beg your pardon," said the officer, a man of wide reading and culture; "is it possible that you are the Katharine Brenton who wrote 'Fate and Destiny'?"

"I am that unhappy woman."

"Unhappy?"

"Yes," returned the other. "—"

"Madam," said the lieutenant commander, flushing deeply and bowing in his turn. He had taken off his cap at her first word. "I beg your pardon, I have heard something of your story."

He was very much embarrassed. It was Langford who took up the tale.

"Since you know so much, Mr. Whitaker, you may as well hear the rest. Indeed, I am anxious that the world should hear it. Miss Brenton and I, we—or did not believe in marriage, and we went away—together."

"We saw," continued the lieutenant commander, "what appeared to be some sort of a frigate with the natives, and fired a gun to attract attention, and Capt. Ashby sent this boat party ashore under my charge to do whatever was necessary. Perhaps you can explain how you came to be embroiled with the natives."

"Sir," said the woman. And the fact that she addressed him in his own language, and with the cultured accents of the well-bred and the well-educated, caused the officer to start violently—"the island is mine."

"Mr. Whitaker turned and looked deliberately at her, his surprise only equaled by his admiration. The truth that she wore was a rough garment, and shapeliness, but few vestments were better calculated to set off her exquisite proportions. The grace and beauty of her figure, the nobility and intelligence of her face took added luster from the contrast of the utterly simple, natural and primitive. Whitaker's glance fell upon a well-nigh perfect woman. The constraining influence of civilization had been so long absent that nature had time and opportunity to reassert its claim. She was tall, exquisitely modeled. Her bare arms might have supplied those belonging from the Venus of Milo; her limbs, which the short tunic to her knees left exposed, were perfect in their symmetry and strength; her feet were such as those to which ancient Greece had bowed; her hands were shapely, graceful, yet strong; her dark eyes looked at him fearfully; her dark hair rose like a somber, cloudy crown above her brow. The fierce sun, the open air, the wild wind had not materially altered the clear, slightly olive pallor of her face. The woman had been beautiful before. Now that nature had had free sway, she was nobly lovely. She had stood a little in the rear of the man at first and the lieutenant commander had not particularly observed her. When she spoke, she stepped into the open. He stared and stared amazed.

Indeed, the direct intensity of his glance added a sudden new perception to the woman's faculties and for the first time in years she realized that she was standing before her fellows half naked. In one swift moment convention leaped across the mingling years and caught her in its arm. The red flashed into her cheek; beneath her ruder vest her bosom rose and fell. Her instinct for the moment was to fly. She wished that she had put on those treasured garments which she had kept for a scene like this in that cave all those years. It was too late now. She summoned her courage, and realizing that dignity, after all, is not made of clothes or conventions, once more addressed him.

"Sir," she said, "my name is Katharine Brenton. I am not, as you might well think, a savage, but a castaway."

"I beg your pardon," said the officer, a man of wide reading and culture; "is it possible that you are the Katharine Brenton who wrote 'Fate and Destiny'?"

"I am that unhappy woman."

"Unhappy?"

"Yes," returned the other. "—"

"Madam," said the lieutenant commander, flushing deeply and bowing in his turn. He had taken off his cap at her first word. "I beg your pardon, I have heard something of your story."

He was very much embarrassed. It was Langford who took up the tale.

"Since you know so much, Mr. Whitaker, you may as well hear the rest. Indeed, I am anxious that the world should hear it. Miss Brenton and I, we—or did not believe in marriage, and we went away—together."

"We saw," continued the lieutenant commander, "what appeared to be some sort of a frigate with the natives, and fired a gun to attract attention, and Capt. Ashby sent this boat party ashore under my charge to do whatever was necessary. Perhaps you can explain how you came to be embroiled with the natives."

"Sir," said the woman. And the fact that she addressed him in his own language, and with the cultured accents of the well-bred and the well-educated, caused the officer to start violently—"the island is mine."

"Mr. Whitaker turned and looked deliberately at her, his surprise only equaled by his admiration. The truth that she wore was a rough garment, and shapeliness, but few vestments were better calculated to set off her exquisite proportions. The grace and beauty of her figure, the nobility and intelligence of her face took added luster from the contrast of the utterly simple, natural and primitive. Whitaker's glance fell upon a well-nigh perfect woman. The constraining influence of civilization had been so long absent that nature had time and opportunity to reassert its claim. She was tall, exquisitely modeled. Her bare arms might have supplied those belonging from the Venus of Milo; her limbs, which the short tunic to her knees left exposed, were perfect in their symmetry and strength; her feet were such as those to which ancient Greece had bowed; her hands were shapely, graceful, yet strong; her dark eyes looked at him fearfully; her dark hair rose like a somber, cloudy crown above her brow. The fierce sun, the open air, the wild wind had not materially altered the clear, slightly olive pallor of her face. The woman had been beautiful before. Now that nature had had free sway, she was nobly lovely. She had stood a little in the rear of the man at first and the lieutenant commander had not particularly observed her. When she spoke, she stepped into the open. He stared and stared amazed.

Indeed, the direct intensity of his glance added a sudden new perception to the woman's faculties and for the first time in years she realized that she was standing before her fellows half naked. In one swift moment convention leaped across the mingling years and caught her in its arm. The red flashed into her cheek; beneath her ruder vest her bosom rose and fell. Her instinct for the moment was to fly. She wished that she had put on those treasured garments which she had kept for a scene like this in that cave all those years. It was too late now. She summoned her courage, and realizing that dignity, after all, is not made of clothes or conventions, once more addressed him.

"Sir," she said, "my name is Katharine Brenton. I am not, as you might well think, a savage, but a castaway."

"I beg your pardon," said the officer, a man of wide reading and culture; "is it possible that you are the Katharine Brenton who wrote 'Fate and Destiny'?"

"I am that unhappy woman."

"Unhappy?"

"Yes," returned the other. "—"

"Madam," said the lieutenant commander, flushing deeply and bowing in his turn. He had taken off his cap at her first word. "I beg your pardon, I have heard something of your story."

He was very much embarrassed. It was Langford who took up the tale.

"Since you know so much, Mr. Whitaker, you may as well hear the rest. Indeed, I am anxious that the world should hear it. Miss Brenton and I, we—or did not believe in marriage, and we went away—together."

"We saw," continued the lieutenant commander, "what appeared to be some sort of a frigate with the natives, and fired a gun to attract attention, and Capt. Ashby sent this boat party ashore under my charge to do whatever was necessary. Perhaps you can explain how you came to be embroiled with the natives."

"Sir," said the woman. And the fact that she addressed him in his own language, and with the cultured accents of the well-bred and the well-educated, caused the officer to start violently—"the island is mine."

"Mr. Whitaker turned and looked deliberately at her, his surprise only equaled by his admiration. The truth that she wore was a rough garment, and shapeliness, but few vestments were better calculated to set off her exquisite proportions. The grace and beauty of her figure, the nobility and intelligence of her face took added luster from the contrast of the utterly simple, natural and primitive. Whitaker's glance fell upon a well-nigh perfect woman. The constraining influence of civilization had been so long absent that nature had time and opportunity to reassert its claim. She was tall, exquisitely modeled. Her bare arms might have supplied those belonging from the Venus of Milo; her limbs, which the short tunic to her knees left exposed, were perfect in their symmetry and strength; her feet were such as those to which ancient Greece had bowed; her hands were shapely, graceful, yet strong; her dark eyes looked at him fearfully; her dark hair rose like a somber, cloudy crown above her brow. The fierce sun, the open air, the wild wind had not materially altered the clear, slightly olive pallor of her face. The woman had been beautiful before. Now that nature had had free sway, she was nobly lovely. She had stood a little in the rear of the man at first and the lieutenant commander had not particularly observed her. When she spoke, she stepped into the open. He stared and stared amazed.

Indeed, the direct intensity of his glance added a sudden new perception to the woman's faculties and for the first time in years she realized that she was standing before her fellows half naked. In one swift moment convention leaped across the mingling years and caught her in its arm. The red flashed into her cheek; beneath her ruder vest her bosom rose and fell. Her instinct for the moment was to fly. She wished that she had put on those treasured garments which she had kept for a scene like this in that cave all those years. It was too late now. She summoned her courage, and realizing that dignity, after all, is not made of clothes or conventions, once more addressed him.

"Sir," she said, "my name is Katharine Brenton. I am not, as you might well think, a savage, but a castaway."

"I beg your pardon," said the officer, a man of wide reading and culture; "is it possible that you are the Katharine Brenton who wrote 'Fate and Destiny'?"

"I am that unhappy woman."

"Unhappy?"

"Yes," returned the other. "—"

"Madam," said the lieutenant commander, flushing deeply and bowing in his turn. He had taken off his cap at her first word. "I beg your pardon, I have heard something of your story."

He was very much embarrassed. It was Langford who took up the tale.

"Since you know so much, Mr. Whitaker, you may as well hear the rest. Indeed, I am anxious that the world should hear it. Miss Brenton and I, we—or did not believe in marriage, and we went away—together."

"We saw," continued the lieutenant commander, "what appeared to be some sort of a frigate with the natives, and fired a gun to attract attention, and Capt. Ashby sent this boat party ashore under my charge to do whatever was necessary. Perhaps you can explain how you came to be embroiled with the natives."

"Sir," said the woman. And the fact that she addressed him in his own language, and with the cultured accents of the well-bred and the well-educated, caused the officer to start violently—"the island is mine."

"Mr. Whitaker turned and looked deliberately at her, his surprise only equaled by his admiration. The truth that she wore was a rough garment, and shapeliness, but few vestments were better calculated to set off her exquisite proportions. The grace and beauty of her figure, the nobility and intelligence of her face took added luster from the contrast of the utterly simple, natural and primitive. Whitaker's glance fell upon a well-nigh perfect woman. The constraining influence of civilization had been so long absent that nature had time and opportunity to reassert its claim. She was tall, exquisitely modeled. Her bare arms might have supplied those belonging from the Venus of Milo; her limbs, which the short tunic to her knees left exposed, were perfect in their symmetry and strength; her feet were such as those to which ancient Greece had bowed; her hands were shapely, graceful, yet strong; her dark eyes looked at him fearfully; her dark hair rose like a somber, cloudy crown above her brow. The fierce sun, the open air, the wild wind had not materially altered the clear, slightly olive pallor of her face. The woman had been beautiful before. Now that nature had had free sway, she was nobly lovely. She had stood a little in the rear of the man at first and the lieutenant commander had not particularly observed her. When she spoke, she stepped into the open. He stared and stared amazed.

Indeed, the direct intensity of his glance added a sudden new perception to the woman's faculties and for the first time in years she realized that she was standing before her fellows half naked. In one swift moment convention leaped across the mingling years and caught her in its arm. The red flashed into her cheek; beneath her ruder vest her bosom rose and fell. Her instinct for the moment was to fly. She wished that she had put on those treasured garments which she had kept for a scene like this in that cave all those years. It was too late now. She summoned her courage, and realizing that dignity, after all, is not made of clothes or conventions, once more addressed him.

"Sir," she said, "my name is Katharine Brenton. I am not, as you might well think, a savage, but a castaway."

"I beg your pardon," said the officer, a man of wide reading and culture; "is it possible that you are the Katharine Brenton who wrote 'Fate and Destiny'?"

"I am that unhappy woman."

"Unhappy?"

GIFFORD PINCHOT FLAYS RICH TIMBER THIEVES

Declares People Have Been Plundered by Criminals' Operations on Public Lands.

New York, Dec. 28.—In an address before a number of prominent publishers of the University club, United States Forester Gifford Pinchot made the open declaration that the people of this country have been complacent victims of a system of plunder of the public forests—crimes often perpetrated by men of high station in commercial and social life.

Condemning the methods of these "rich criminals," he said: "But they have suffered from a serious moral perversion by which it becomes praiseworthy to do for a corporation things which they would refuse with the loftiest scorn to do for themselves. Fortunately for us, all that delusion is passing rapidly away."

"The American people have evidently made up their minds that our natural resources must be conserved," he said. "That is good, but it settles only half the question. For whose benefit shall they be conserved—for the benefit of the many, or for the use and profit of the few? The great conflict now being fought will decide. There is no other question before us that befalls to be so important—or that will be so difficult to straddle—as the great question between special interest and equal opportunity; between the privileges of the few and the rights of the many; between government by men for human welfare and government by money for profit; between the men who stand for the Roosevelt policies and the men who stand against them. This is the essence of the conservation problem today."

"The American people have evidently made up their minds that our natural resources must be conserved," he said. "That is good, but it settles only half the question. For whose benefit shall they be conserved—for the benefit of the many, or for the use and profit of the few? The great conflict now being fought will decide. There is no other question before us that befalls to be so important—or that will be so difficult to straddle—as the great question between special interest and equal opportunity; between the privileges of the few and the rights of the many; between government by men for human welfare and government by money for profit; between the men who stand for the Roosevelt policies and the men who stand against them. This is the essence of the conservation problem today."

"The American people have evidently made up their minds that our natural resources must be conserved," he said. "That is good, but it settles only half the question. For whose benefit shall they be conserved—for the benefit of the many, or for the use and profit of the few? The great conflict now being fought will decide. There is no other question before us that befalls to be so important—or that will be so difficult to straddle—as the great question between special interest and equal opportunity; between the privileges of the few and the rights of the many; between government by men for human welfare and government by money for profit; between the men who stand for the Roosevelt policies and the men who stand against them. This is the essence of the conservation problem today."

"The American people have evidently made up their minds that our natural resources must be conserved," he said. "That is good, but it settles only half the question. For whose benefit shall they be conserved—for the benefit of the many, or for the use and profit of the few? The great conflict now being fought will decide. There is no other question before us that befalls to be so important—or that will be so difficult to straddle—as the great question between special interest and equal opportunity; between the privileges of the few and the rights of the many; between government by men for human welfare and government by money for profit; between the men who stand for the Roosevelt policies and the men who stand against them. This is the essence of the conservation problem today."

"The American people have evidently made up their minds that our natural resources must be conserved," he said. "That is good, but it settles only half the question. For whose benefit shall they be conserved—for the benefit of the many, or for the use and profit of the few? The great conflict now being fought will decide. There is no other question before us that befalls to be so important—or that will be so difficult to straddle—as the great question between special interest and equal opportunity; between the privileges of the few and the rights of the many; between government by men for human welfare and government by money for profit; between the men who stand for the Roosevelt policies and the men who stand against them. This is the essence of the conservation problem today."

"The American people have evidently made up their minds that our natural resources must be conserved," he said. "That is good, but it settles only half the question. For whose benefit shall they be conserved—for the benefit of the many, or for the use and profit of the few? The great conflict now being fought will decide. There is no other question before us that befalls to be so important—or that will be so difficult to straddle—as the great question between special interest and equal opportunity; between the privileges of the few and the rights of the many; between government by men for human welfare and government by money for profit; between the men who stand for the Roosevelt policies and the men who stand against them. This is the essence of the conservation problem today."

"The American people have evidently made up their minds that our natural resources must be conserved," he said. "That is good, but it settles only half the question. For whose benefit shall they be conserved—for the benefit of the many, or for the use and profit of the few? The great conflict now being fought will decide. There is no other question before us that befalls to be so important—or that will be so difficult to straddle—as the great question between special interest and equal opportunity; between the privileges of the few and the rights of the many; between government by men for human welfare and government by money for profit; between the men who stand for the Roosevelt policies and the men who stand against them. This is the essence of the conservation problem today."

"The American people have evidently made up their minds that our natural resources must be conserved," he said. "That is good, but it settles only half the question. For whose benefit shall they be conserved—for the benefit of the many, or for the use and profit of the few? The great conflict now being fought will decide. There is no other question before us that befalls to be so important—or that will be so difficult to straddle—as the great question between special interest and equal opportunity; between the privileges of the few and the rights of the many; between government by men for human welfare and government by money for profit; between the men who stand for the Roosevelt policies and the men who stand against them. This is the essence of the conservation problem today."

"The American people have evidently made up their minds that our natural resources must be conserved," he said. "That is good, but it settles only half the question. For whose benefit shall they be conserved—for the benefit of the many, or for the use and profit of the few? The great conflict now being fought will decide. There is no other question before us that befalls to be so important—or that will be so difficult to straddle—as the great question between special interest and equal opportunity; between the privileges of the few and the rights of the many; between government by men for human welfare and government by money for profit; between the men who stand for the Roosevelt policies and the men who stand against them. This is the essence of the conservation problem today."

"The American people have evidently made up their minds that our natural resources must be conserved," he said. "That is good, but it settles only half the question. For whose benefit shall they be conserved—for the benefit of the many, or for the use and profit of the few? The great conflict now being fought will decide. There is no other question before us that befalls to be so important—or that will be so difficult to straddle—as the great question between special interest and equal opportunity; between the privileges of the few and the rights of the many; between government by men for human welfare and government by money for profit; between the men who stand for the Roosevelt policies and the men who stand against them. This is the essence of the conservation problem today."

"The American people have evidently made up their minds that our natural resources must be conserved," he said. "That is good, but it settles only half the question. For whose benefit shall they be conserved—for the benefit of the many, or for the use and profit of the few? The great conflict now being fought will decide. There is no other question before us that befalls to be so important—or that will be so difficult to straddle—as the great question between special interest and equal opportunity; between the privileges of the few and the rights of the many; between government by men for human welfare and government by money for profit; between the men who stand for the Roosevelt policies and the men who stand against them. This is the essence of the conservation problem today."

"The American people have evidently made up their minds that our natural resources must be conserved," he said. "That is good, but it settles only half the question. For whose benefit shall they be conserved—for the benefit of the many, or for the use and profit of the few? The great conflict now being fought will decide. There is no other question before us that befalls to be so important—or that will be so difficult to straddle—as the great question between special interest and equal opportunity; between the privileges of the few and the rights of the many; between government by men for human welfare and government by money for profit; between the men who stand for the Roosevelt policies and the men who stand against them. This is the essence of the conservation problem today."

"The American people have evidently made up their minds that our natural resources must be conserved," he said. "That is good, but it settles only half the question. For whose benefit shall they be conserved—for the benefit of the many, or for the use and profit of the few? The great conflict now being fought will decide. There is no other question before us that befalls to be so important—or that will be so difficult to straddle—as the great question between special interest and equal opportunity; between the privileges of the few and the rights of the many; between government by men for human welfare and government by money for profit; between the men who stand for the Roosevelt policies and the men who stand against them. This is the essence of the conservation problem today."

"The American people have evidently made up their minds that our natural resources must be conserved," he said. "That is good, but it settles only half the question. For whose benefit shall they be conserved—for the benefit of the many, or for the use and profit of the few? The great conflict now being fought will decide. There is no other question before us that befalls to be so important—or that will be so difficult to straddle—as the great question between special interest and equal opportunity; between the privileges of the few and the rights of the many; between government by men for human welfare and government by money for profit; between the men who stand for the Roosevelt policies and the men who stand against them. This is the essence of the conservation problem today."

"The American people have evidently made up their minds that our natural resources must be conserved," he said. "That is good, but it settles only half the question. For whose benefit shall they be conserved—for the benefit of the many, or for the use and profit of the few? The great conflict now being fought will decide. There is no other question before us that befalls to be so important—or that will be so difficult to straddle—as the great question between special interest and equal opportunity; between the privileges of the few and the rights of the many; between government by men for human welfare and government by money for profit; between the men who stand for the Roosevelt policies and the men who stand against them. This is the essence of the conservation problem today."

"The American people have evidently made up their minds that our natural resources must be conserved," he said. "That is good, but it settles only half the question. For whose benefit shall they be conserved—for the benefit of the many, or for the use and profit of the few? The great conflict now being fought will decide. There is no other question before us that befalls to be so important—or that will be so difficult to straddle—as the great question between special interest and equal opportunity; between the privileges of the few and the rights of the many; between government by men for human welfare and government by money for profit; between the men who stand for the Roosevelt policies and the men who stand against them. This is the essence of the conservation problem today."

"The American people have evidently made up their minds that our natural resources must be conserved," he said. "That is good, but it settles only half the question. For whose benefit shall they be conserved—for the benefit of the many, or for the use and profit of the few? The great conflict now being fought will decide. There is no other question before us that befalls to be so important—or that will be so difficult to straddle—as the great question between special interest and equal opportunity; between the privileges of the few and the rights of the many; between government by men for human welfare and government by money for profit; between the men who stand for the Roosevelt policies and the men who stand against them. This is the essence of the conservation problem today."

"The American people have evidently made up their minds that our natural resources must be conserved," he said. "That is good, but it settles only half the question. For whose benefit shall they be conserved—for the benefit of the many, or for the use and profit of the few? The great conflict now being fought will decide. There is no other question before us that befalls to be so important—or that will be so difficult to straddle—as the great question between special interest and equal opportunity; between the privileges of the few and the rights of the many; between government by men for human welfare and government by money for profit; between the men who stand for the Roosevelt policies and the men who stand against them. This is the essence of the conservation problem today."

"The American people have evidently made up their minds that our natural resources must be conserved," he said. "That is good, but it settles only half the question. For whose benefit shall they be conserved—for the benefit of the many, or for the use and profit of the few? The great conflict now being fought will decide. There is no other question before us that befalls to be so important—or that will be so difficult to straddle—as the great question between special interest and equal opportunity; between the privileges of the few and the rights of the many; between government by men for human welfare and government by money for profit; between the men who stand for the Roosevelt policies and the men who stand against them. This is the essence of the conservation problem today."

"The American people have evidently made up their minds that our natural resources must be conserved," he said. "That is good, but it settles only half the question. For whose benefit shall they be conserved—for the benefit of the many, or for the use and profit of the few? The great conflict now being fought will decide. There is no other question before us that befalls to be so important—or that will be so difficult to straddle—as the great question between special interest and equal opportunity; between the privileges of the few and the rights of the many; between government by men for human welfare and government by money for profit; between the men who stand for the Roosevelt policies and the men who stand against them. This is the essence of the conservation problem today."

"The American people have evidently made up their minds that our natural resources must be conserved," he said. "That is good, but it settles only half the question. For whose benefit shall they be conserved—for the benefit of the many, or for the use and profit of the few? The great conflict now being fought will decide. There is no other question before us that befalls to be so important—or that will be so difficult to straddle—as the great question between special interest and equal opportunity; between the privileges of the few and the rights of the many; between government by men for human welfare and government by money for profit; between the men who stand for the Roosevelt policies and the men who stand against them. This is the essence of the conservation problem today."

"The American people have evidently made up their minds that our natural resources must be conserved," he said. "That is good, but it settles only half the question. For whose benefit shall they be conserved—for the benefit of the many, or for the use and profit of the few? The great conflict now being fought will decide. There is no other question before us that befalls to be so important—or that will be so difficult to straddle—as the great question between special interest and equal opportunity; between the privileges of the few and the rights of the many; between government by men for human welfare and government by money for profit; between the men who stand for the Roosevelt policies and the men who stand against them. This is the essence of the conservation problem today."

"The American people have evidently made up their minds that our natural resources must be conserved," he said. "That is good, but it settles only half the question. For whose benefit shall they be conserved—for the benefit of the many, or for the use and profit of the few? The great conflict now being fought will decide. There is no other question before us that befalls to be so important—or that will be so difficult to straddle—as the great question between special interest and equal opportunity; between the privileges of the few and the rights of the many; between government by men for human welfare and government by money for profit; between the men who stand for the Roosevelt policies and the men who stand against them. This is the essence of the conservation problem today."

"The American people have evidently made up their minds that our natural resources must be conserved," he

FORTY YEARS AGO

Jan. 28, 1869.—ANOTHER FIRE.—Two stores burned.—Loss Six Thousand Dollars.—About 1 o'clock this morning a fire was discovered near the rear in the west wall of a building on West Milwaukee street, occupied by Bennett & Hyzer as a stove and tinware store, and owned by James Church. The alarm was at once sounded, but the structure was of a combustible nature, and the flames at once communicated to the wooden building adjoining on the west, occupied by Smith Bros. as a grocery store, and also owned by James Church. The progress of the fire was so rapid that only a portion of the stock of Bennett & Hyzer was removed and the loss of the stock of Smith Bros. was nearly total, not more than $500 or $600 being taken out. They carried a large amount of goods, valued at $5,000, and as they had an insurance of but $3,000 they lost heavily. Bennett & Hyzer had an insurance of $1,000 which it is thought will by no means cover the loss. The second story of these buildings was occupied by George Flores, harness maker, and Glenn & Cantr, pump manufacturers. The first named gentleman loses from $600 to $800 and has no insurance. The last named firm estimates their loss at $900, but have an insurance of $500. There are various theories in regard to the origin of the fire, but the most plausible of them all are that the fire started in the stove.

EMERALD GROVE. Dec. 27.—The Christmas exercises were quite well attended in spite of the storm and bad roads. Elmer and Victor Davidson of Chicago spent Christmas with their parents, Rev. and Mrs. Davidson. Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Smith of Beloit were Christmas visitors at the home of J. P. Boynton. Miss Carrie Swingle closed her school last Friday for a vacation of two weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Leon Jones of Beloit attended Christmas exercises here. Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Harless entertained relatives on Friday. The L. A. meeting will be held at Mrs. P. H. Watson's on Thursday afternoon. Election of officers. Miss Catherine Jones of Janesville spent a few days of last week with Miss Fay Little. Develops the Good in Man. Franklin To be thrown upon one's own resources is to be cast into the very lap of fortune.

BACKACHE SIMPLY VANISHES AND OUT-OF-ORDER KIDNEYS ACT FINE

A few doses will regulate the Kidneys and cure the most severe Bladder misery. No man or woman here whose kidneys are out-of-order, or who suffers from backache or bladder misery, can afford to leave Pape's Diuretic untried. After taking several doses, all pains in the back, sides or loins, rheumatic twinges, nervousness, headache, sleeplessness, inflamed or swollen eyelids, watery eyes, tired or worn-out feeling and other symptoms of clogged, sluggish kidneys simply vanish. Uncontrollable urination (especially at night), smarting, discolored water and all bladder misery ends. The moment you suspect the slightest kidney or bladder disorder, or feel rheumatic pains, don't continue to be miserable all winter, but get a fifty-cent treatment of Pape's Diuretic from your druggist and start taking as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine, at any price, made anywhere else in the world, which is so harmless or will effect so thorough and prompt a cure. This unusual preparation goes direct to the cause of trouble, dissolving its cleansing, healing and vitalizing influence directly upon the organs and glands affected and completes the cure before you realize it. A few days' treatment of Pape's Diuretic induces clean, healthy, active kidneys, bladder and urinary organs—and you feel fine. Your physician, pharmacist, banker or any mercantile agency will tell you that Pape, Thompson & Pape, of Cincinnati, is a large and responsible medicinal house, thoroughly worthy of your confidence. Accept only Pape's Diuretic—fifty-cent treatment—any drug store—anywhere in the world.

NEWS FROM THE SUBURBS

HANOVER. Dec. 27.—Fred Marty of Hanover, state dairy inspector, spent Tuesday here. Miss Ella Pahl, formerly of this place and now of Janesville, and Harmon Gibbs of Orfordville are to be married next Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Allen Long and son, Ralph, have gone to Grant City, Mo., to visit relatives and friends there. John W. Herd of Milwaukee spent Wednesday with F. A. Lockfield. Mrs. Mary Van Hise of Janesville and Mrs. Tilla Lentz of Footville attended Royal Neighbors' meeting here Thursday. Fred Pahl of Beloit was a caller here Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Ludolph of Janesville spent Christmas at Chas. Schleber's. Rynatha Schrader of Janesville spent Christmas with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Sorenson and daughter of Janesville spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Schultz. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Atka and sons of Beloit were visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Lentz. Charles, George and Edna Hemingway of Janesville spent Saturday and Sunday with their parents. Miss Esther Damerow entertained Fred Hehl of Janesville, Irving Lentz of Footville, Carl and Dorothy Lagerman, and Ralph and Leslie Elmer Hyzer, Friday night. Mr. and Mrs. Rabka entertained their three daughters of Janesville, Carl Olson of Beloit, and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kane and children Christmas day. Fred Ehringer of Janesville was a caller here Christmas. Carl Stavn spent Christmas at Orfordville. Fred Ehringer was an Evansville caller Christmas. Chas. Teibert and family of the town of Rock and Mr. Mrs. Wm. Hartwig and son spent Sunday at Mrs. Hartwig's. Mrs. Emma Raymond, Mrs. Hattie Borkenhagen and Mrs. Jennie Schumann spent Sunday at Orfordville. Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Damerow and daughter, Esther, and August Sorenson were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sorenson Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. Chas. Belling and son, Earl, of Watertown are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hahlberg. Mr. and Mrs. John Hahst of Freeport, Ill., were Sunday visitors at Mr. and Mrs. Stachewski's. Herman Damerow and family of the town of Rock were Sunday visitors at Mr. and Mrs. Schrader's.

JOHNSTOWN. Dec. 27.—Fred Chesmore of Huron, S. D., is visiting at the home of his brother, Elmer. Mrs. C. Craig has purchased the church organ. Carl Borklund has returned from a two weeks' visit with Chicago relatives. Andrew Hansen and Miss Emma Anderson of Richmond were Sunday guests of Mrs. A. Holverson. Mr. and Mrs. P. J. McFarlane and Master George drove to Milton Friday evening to spend Christmas with their parents. Mrs. McFarlane will not return until the last of the week. Dr. and Mrs. Dike opened their home Christmas day to the relatives of the family, who met to enjoy their annual Christmas dinner. Covers were laid for twenty-four. The tables were decorated in keeping with the season. A Christmas tree provided a pleasant feature for the evening. The guests out of town were Mr. and Mrs. E. Holbrook, Whitewater, Mr. and Mrs. C. Harris and family, Jesse Harris and wife, and Mrs. Mary Cramb and son, George, of Richmond. Those that held family reunions Christmas day were Mr. and Mrs. James Haight, Mr. and Mrs. John McCann, Mr. and Mrs. George Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Cado and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Peterson. The Milton Poultry association are making preparations for their annual exhibition to be held in January. A. P. Kaye of Lake Geneva will judge the poultry. Much credit is due our teachers and pupils at the Christmas exercises. A crowded house greeted them and all were kindly remembered with Christmas gifts.

FAIRFIELD. Dec. 27.—Eric Wendenburg is visiting in Chicago. Miss Inez Burg of Chicago is spending the holidays with her sister, Mrs. Carl Fehren. C. J. Brothlund and wife and A. L. Brothlund, wife and daughter spent Christmas day with Mr. and Mrs. James Capen in Darion. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Capen are Christmas dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Greenman in Darion. Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Brothlund and daughter, Sybil, spent Sunday in Beloit, guests of his mother. Mr. and Mrs. James Stewart entertained guests Sunday to a turkey dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Julius Grams expect to move to Avonlea soon. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brown and daughters of Beloit are here to spend the holidays with relatives. Lucille Dodge of Avonlea visited at James Caden's last Friday. At a special meeting last Tuesday afternoon the B. S. A. elected the following officers for the coming year: Mrs. Ida Williams, orator; Mrs. Gertrude Brothlund, vice orator; Miss Nina Gage, poet orator; Mrs. Nettie Clossen, recorder; Mrs. Hattie Watersham, secretary; Mrs. Clara Chamberlain, marshal; Mrs. Myra Brothlund, inner sentinel; Mrs. Ella Johnson, outer sentinel; Mrs. Ida Rinkenbrodt, manager. Ed Dykeman, wife and daughter from near Delavan braved the snow storm Christmas day and ate dinner with his sister, Mrs. Ella Johnson. Waterman was a Clinton visitor Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McCarthy entertained twenty at Christmas dinner. Mrs. Long and Mrs. Rinkenbrodt are on the sick list. Will Capen received the sad news of the death of his nephew, Richard Casper, who died Christmas night at the home of his uncle, Ellis Casper, at Sharon. A. L. Thomson and Clifford Swan were weekend visitors in Janesville.

MAGNOLIA CENTER. Dec. 26.—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harnack and daughters, Cora and Hattie, and Mr. Harry Worthing attended the Xmas tree at Center, Friday evening. A number attended the Xmas tree in North Magnolia, Thursday evening. Richard Leach purchased a new cutler at Orfordville, Friday. Will Shaw was a Brooklyn visitor Thursday evening. "Nellie," the oldest horse in the town, belonging to George Bishop, died Thursday, Dec. 23, on his farm, where she has spent nearly thirty-three years. Mrs. Edward Tierney of Green county and Miss Mary O'Sell spent Wednesday at Brookfield. Messrs. Leach and Harnack were Janesville visitors Thursday. August Bode and daughter, Freda, spent Xmas with Mr. and Mrs. Illus of Durand, Ill. Miss Della Thompson spent Xmas night with Miss Ruth Ashburn.

NORTH JOHNSTOWN. North Johnstown, Dec. 28.—Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pierce and family spent Christmas day with Mr. and Mrs. John Powell and family. Mr. and Mrs. John Malone and family, Andrew Pierce and Miss Julia Pierce spent Christmas day with Mr. and Mrs. Martin Joyce, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. John McNally and family of Harmony spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Malone and family. Mr. and Mrs. Herman of Beloit and Mr. and Mrs. John Powell and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pierce and family. Miss Sue Dyer and pupils closed school Friday with a program and Christmas trees. Much credit is due them in their excellent work.

SOCIETIES. Shoplery, Dec. 27.—Mr. and Mrs. H. Brown had a Christmas gathering at their residence. Mr. and Mrs. W. Culbert of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brown of West Allis, and Mrs. Roy Brown and two children of Sycamore, Ill., comprised the party. A Christmas tree was decorated for the Sunday school at each of the two churches here. The weather prevented many from attending the exercises. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Van Kuren took the train on Friday for Appleton to spend Christmas with Mrs. Van Kuren's parents. The roads are badly drifted since the late storms. It has been several years since we have had such a quantity of snow. Nearly all the trains are late, the evening train from Janesville often being four hours late. Elmer Black came home for a visit on Friday. Miss Carrie Perkins has gone to spend the winter with relatives in Illinois.

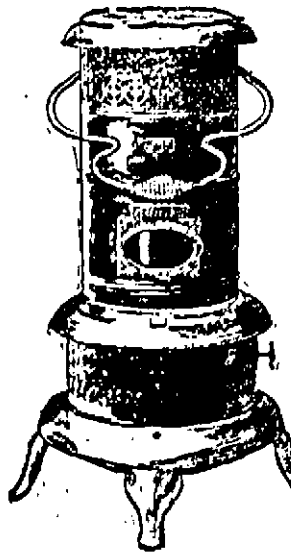

EVANSVILLE. Evansville, Dec. 27.—Lauren Jones has been very sick the past week with grippe and congestion of the lungs. Mr. Jones is now convalescing slowly and on Christmas eve he was given a joyful surprise when Ben Ellis drove in a blinding snow storm to his home five miles northwest of town to present him with a large cluster of carnations to express the fraternal friendship of the Modern Woodmen lodge. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Austin entertained a company of relatives at a Christmas party Saturday. Eighteen sat down to an elaborate dinner which was followed by a Christmas tree and a general good time. Miss Lottie Howland of Chicago is here to spend a few days at the home of her brother, W. W. Howland. She expects to leave next week for Iowa where she will spend two months as a visiting deaconess, and will then go to the state of Oregon to continue the same work. Ray Fossenden arrived from Kansas City on Friday to spend two or three weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fossenden. Mr. and Mrs. John Scheibel entertained a number of relatives at Christmas dinner. Dr. Bert Shushall and wife of Delavan are guests of local relatives. Attorney and Mrs. Allen Dibble of Madison spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Fisher. They were on their way to Footville to spend Xmas with Mrs. Dibble's father, J. W. Quimby. Earl Tullar has gone to Lenox, S. Dakota, where he will spend the remainder of the winter visiting relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Orville Jones and family were in Albany Xmas to spend the day at the home of her father, Arthur Broughton. Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Hansen and children of Madison have been spending a few days at the home of the latter's sister, Mrs. Ed. Jones. Mr. and Mrs. Bert Baker are spending the holidays in Milwaukee as the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Tullar. John Grant of Waukesha is here for a few days' visit with his daughter, Mrs. C. A. Winer.

(Making Light of Rules. "I chafe against the regulations," murmured the college girl as she prepared surreptitious Welsh rabbit at 2 a. m.—Harvard Lampoon. Knowledge and Duty. Knowledge is a steep climb, few may climb; while duty is a path which all may tread.—Lewis Morris.

Little Things Annoy or Please Us

Little things annoy us—the little curl of smoke that, if left alone, would soon smudge the furnishings and make work for the housewife. There are no annoying little things in the PERFECTION Oil Heater (Equipped with Smokeless Device). They've been banished by hard thought and tireless work. In their stead there are little things that please—that make for comfort and satisfaction. The little self-locking Automatic Smokeless Device that actually prevents smoke—the little lock on the inside of the tube that holds the wick in check—keeps it below the smoke zone, so accurately adjusted that it cannot go wrong—these are some of the little things that please—that have contributed to the name and fame of the Perfection Oil Heater. The most satisfying heater you can buy—always ready—easy to manage—always dependable—quickly cleaned. Brass font holds 4 quarts—burns 9 hours. Attractively finished in Nickel or Japan in various styles and finishes. Every Dealer Everywhere. If Not At Yours, Write for Descriptive Circular to the Nearest Agency of the STANDARD OIL COMPANY (Incorporated).

Gazette Want Ads will buy, sell or trade anything. Surely you have some want ad can fill WANTED—Miscellaneous.

WANTED—A suitable room in heart of city over some store preferred, for athletic work. Apply at 223 S. Franklin. WANTED—Two lady old fur and furs and carpets. Telephone, other phone we will call. Highest prices offered. Janesville, Wis. WANTED—Small flat or one large or two small unfurnished rooms. Old phone 4014.

WANTED—Male Help.

WANTED—Collector and collector for Metropolitan Life Ins. Co. Salary and commission. J. W. Thustend, Asst. Mgr., 418 Hayes Block. WANTED—Halfway Mail Clerks and Clerks. House Employees. Spring examinations everywhere. Over 2000 appointments during 1910. Commencement salary $200. Rapid advancement. Short hours. Steady work. Common education sufficient. Candidates prepared free. Write immediately for schedule. Franklin Institute, Dept. 3344, Rochester, N. Y. WANTED—Janitor at Christ church. Apply to J. M. Hostwick & Sons. WANTED—Man to tend furnace. Inquire of Mrs. Julia Myers, 7 S. East St. WANTED—Two hundred men with experience in light assembling. Day work and steady employment. Apply, 1120 MOTOR CAR COMPANY, LANSING, MICHIGAN. WANTED—Furniture man for general work who understands care and driving horses. Give reference. Address J. D. Gazette.

WANTED—Female Situation.

WANTED—Good cook, also a man for general work in a good home provided. South Janesville Hotel. WANTED—Girl at Wisconsin Telephone office. WANTED—Experienced girl for house work, good wages. Mrs. H. H. Illus, Jackson St. FOR RENT. FOR RENT—High class dairy farm near city. Call E. Fisher, Hayes Bk. FOR RENT—The large, heated, furnished house suitable for one or two gentlemen; also two smaller rooms either furnished or unfurnished. Inq. 508 W. Milwaukee St. FOR RENT—Modern flat. E. N. Fredendall. New phone 703. FOR RENT—Three modern flats, also three houses, one house furnished. Apply to E. H. Snyder, Carle Bk. FOR RENT—Farm. 14 D. Wilson's 210 acre homestead farm, town of Fulton. Call 623 S. Main St. Janesville. FOR RENT—25-room steam heated flat. Rent $22.00 and $24.00 per month. One a-room hot water heated flat, price $25.00. One 7-room flat with furnace heat. Houses from $8.00 per month up according to location. For sale is a large list of the houses on easy terms. Call or phone, Mrs. W. Schmitt, Real Estate and Insurance, office 23 West Main St. FOR SALE—Real Estate. FOR SALE—Ninety four acres in the town of Rock; good land and new buildings; easy property; would suit for exchange part interest. J. J. Cunningham, Hayes Bk.

FOR SALE—Tobacco farm; large and small with good buildings and shade. From $25 to $50 per acre. Address Kelly & McTier, Portage, Wis.

FOR SALE—120 acres of good land with good buildings. 2 1/2 miles from Janesville. Will take home in Janesville in part pay. J. B. Kennedy, City.

FOR SALE—Modern home at 630 Monroe St. Hargrave if taken at once. New phone black 892.

FOR SALE—Mrs. I. C. Brown's residence in Forest Park. All modern conveniences. Inquire to L. M. Brownell, River City bank. FOR RENT—Two 6-room and one 4-room flats, all steam heat and modern improvements. One 6-room hot water heat. Their slightly modern, rent reasonable and desirable location. Good 6-room flat with furnace heat in location. Houses for rent from $8.00 per month up according to location. For sale, some excellent bargains in houses on easy terms to numerous to mention. Call or phone J. M. W. SCHMITT, Real Estate, Loans and Insurance, Office 23 West Milwaukee St.

FOR SALE—Live Stock.

FOR SALE—Driving horse 6 years old; gentle. Call 217 Dodge St.

FOR SALE—A choice lot of yearling Shorthorn cattle. John Higgins, Route 8, Box 40, Janesville, Wis.

FOR SALE—Two Poland China hogs; one a registered yearling; one registered Jersey bull. W. A. Douglas, Route 3, Janesville. Footville phone.

FOR SALE—Miscellaneous.

FOR SALE—Restaurant at 310 E. Grand Ave. Beloit Wis. Good location and business. Price reasonable if sold at once. Inquire on premises.

FOR SALE—Two seat Portland sleigh and coupe. Call Janesville Christmas Bazaar.

FOR SALE—Chapman extra good square. Callering plans. Inquire 1918 Hickory St.

FOR SALE—Hard maple wood $7.00 per cord, phone 618 West. Sawed $7.50. Will F. Decker.

FOR SALE—Good boxes at the Gazette.

FOR SALE—Hard coal burner in first class condition. 623 W. Milwaukee.

FOR SALE—Small fruit and vegetable farm about 7 acres; orchard of 100 trees and other small fruit. All in the condition for sale. House and outbuildings in good neighborhood. 1 mile from Milton Junction.

FOR SALE—Timothy hay. Fred J. O'Brien, Milton Wis. Three miles north of Milton on Walker farm.

SIXTH CAR AT A BARGAIN—We have for sale a 1909 Buick, six cylinder, six speed touring car, which was taken in trade for a 1910 car. This car has been repainted and thoroughly overhauled at the factory. Address Commercial Dept., 15 R. Thomas Motor Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

FOR SALE—Complete membership certificate in the Janesville Business College; value $110. Can be used in either Beloit, Janesville, or Janesville college. Person owning it cannot make use of it; will sell at very reasonable price if taken at once. Address Miss Minnie Bellinger, Route 28, Beloit, Wis., or call on J. P. School, Corn Exchange Square.

LOST—A sterling pocketknife. Finder please leave at Gazette. Reward. LOST—In city, new black Buffalo robe and blanket. Finder please leave at Fair Store and receive reward. J. L. Schmitt, Attn.

LOST—Ladies' hand bag, con. Beloit and Eastern. Finder please leave at Gazette. Reward if returned to 4015 Beloit Ave.

MISCELLANEOUS.

NOTICE is given to the farmers in the vicinity of Janesville that we are now ready to make contracts for corn and cabbage for the season of 1910. Signed, P. H. Holmsted, Jr., Co.

COPIES WIND you nothing better for the coming New Year than that you owned a farm in Illinois. Co. I have some choice farms for sale, low in price, high in quality, on easy terms. A. Carlson, Kenosha, Wis.

CUT RATES on household goods, to Pacific Coast and other points. Superior service at reduced rates. The Boyd Transfer Co., Milwaukee, Wis.

DRESSMAKING done at 420 Fourth Ave. New phone 827 red.

DYEING AND DELIVERY. TALK TO HYANT for parcel delivery and light dyeing. At Hudson Drug Store, phone 167, or residence, phone 693 white.

BUILDING AND CONTRACTING. ESTIMATES on masonry, carpentry, mill work, etc. Wm. and Court St. 217 Old phone 4243; new, 1030 Bk. C. & W. Hayes.

ARCHITECT. ROBERT R. CHANEY, ARCHITECT, Residence 111 Locust St., City. New phone red 118. Open for spring now.

Will Sell at Genuine Bargains

1 five-room house, Racine St., corner of Garfield Ave.

1 five-room house, South Main St. 1 nice lot in Glen Elva Add.

Two lots on railroad, best location for warehouse or manufacturing plant or for Wood and Coal Yard.

Two acres of good level land inside city limits. Thirty horse-power boiler and 18-ft. smokestack.

No reasonable offer will be refused for this property as we must close company matters.

All will be sold on easy terms. See other of us.

F. E. & J. S. FIFIELD.

The Best Buy

in Rock Co. 90-ACRE FARM.

One mile from Lima. Good land, good buildings.

Must be sold. Price $85 per acre. SEE—

LITTS & BULLOCK Over Badger, Drug Store.

Corner W. Milwaukee & River Sts. Read advertisements—Save money.

The Optimist's Corner

Daily Helps to Health and Happiness

By GEORGE F. DUTLER, A. M., M. D.

The lungs of an ordinary man hold some ten pints of air; but as they are never entirely emptied in life, they take in about six pints, or one gallon, at a full breath. In the breathing of repose, as in ordinary occupations, about one pint, or 40 cubic inches, is taken in at a breath. A person breathes about 10 times a minute during sleep, or two and a quarter hours heads during the eight hours which are usually given to sleep, or 200 cubic feet; that is, in eight hours every particle of nutriment would be abstracted from a room containing that amount of air. To make it more tangible, if a person were put to sleep in a room six feet high, eight feet long, and a little over four feet broad, and no air was allowed to come in from without, all the life of the air would be consumed, and he would die at the expiration of the eighth hour, even if each breath given out could be kept to itself. But this would not be the case, for every breath taints and corrupts the air. Since, therefore, each out-breathing vitilates the whole body of air in a bed-chamber, as a drop of ink will discolor a glass of water, it should have a thorough ventilation. Pure air is as essential to life as water is to fish. Breathing impure air sows the seeds of disease and premature death.

THIS HOUSE FOR YOUR SMALL FARM

7-room house on 4x8 lot in 3rd ward, cistern, electric lights, good repair. Will trade for a five-acre to a fifteen acre farm.

See me for quick action in buying, selling or trading.

J. L. HAY, Real Estate and Fire Insurance

311 Hayes Block

Read Advertisements—Save money.

DAILY DIET HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLEN Food Specialist.

WASH FRUITS AND VEGETABLES THOROUGHLY.

It is very important to wash all fruits and vegetables thoroughly, so as to remove not only the soil and dust that may have adhered to them, but the germs. A vegetable washer has lately been put upon the market which can be used with advantage, but it is most important that the plants be held under the faucet, or at least in running water. These germs can be destroyed by boiling, but lettuce, cabbage and, in fact, all green vegetables and fruits are best in their natural state; for boiling precipitates, to a large extent, the mineral elements of the vegetables, which give them their special value as foods. Apples and peaches and, in fact, all fruits should be washed. No harm, but much benefit can come from it.

Doing His Duty.

IF I WAS a Pat Man in A Hurry, I'd jump off a street car and rushed into a stationer's and said to the man behind the counter: "Please give me a little information—quick."

"Well, sir?"

"Has President Taft got back to Washington from his trip around the world?"

"Why, I believe I saw something in the papers to that effect."

"But are you sure?"

"Yes, I think I am."

"Then give me a postal card at once."

"Here it is."

"And now a place to write a line on it."

"Over at that desk."

The Pat Man in A Hurry had the card written in a moment, and was rushing off to the nearest mail box when the stationer said:

"You are rushing things."

"Yes—no time to waste."

"Then it is a very important matter?"

"It is. I am doing my duty as an American citizen. I always rush things when it is a matter of duty. You can see what I have written."

And the stationer took the card and read:

"Dear Mr. Taft: America welcomes you home, and hopes you may stay a few days."

OVERWHELMED. Monthly. For you are not going to make any New Year resolutions? Mrs. No. 1 fully meant to make a few. But when I announced my intention the members of my family had so many suggestions to offer that I grew discouraged.

SEND US WORD

Subscribers to The Gazette will confer a favor upon the publishers by sending word immediately to this office of any irregularity in delivery of paper, any error in the dating of subscription—in fact reporting anything that is not correct regarding delivery of paper.

During the recent contest there were many opportunities for mistakes and it is the wish of the paper to rectify any error which may have been made at that time.

GAZETTE PRINTING CO.

READ THE GAZETTE ADS